Austrians Formally Reject Molotov's Treaty Proposal

Pupils Study Child Care

A FOURTH "R" has been added to the traditional "three R's" of education, at least as far as students of Miss Pauline Drake's home economics class at Harding High School are concerned. While studying child care, class members learned about the "rearing of children." To get first hand experience, Mandy White (seated at the right), a junior student, brought her five - month - old niece, Cathy McCumber, being held by another junior student in the class, Barbara Slob. The previous week, a group of preschool-age children were guests of the class. Looking on in the above picture is Miss Drake. Cathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick McCumber.

Ike Cautious On More Aid To Indochina

President Reportedly Standing Firm Against French, British Pleas

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is reportedly standing firm against increased French and British requests for broader American participation in the Indochina war.

The President was said by informed sources to have told Republican congressional leaders the only manpower commitments he intends to make are for 200 armed services mechanics already sent to Indochina, plus permitting civilians to volunteer to fly French planes. Shipments of American material are reportedly being stepped up.

British Back Move

Informed sources said the President indicated that because of their interest in Malaya the British have joined the French in urging more American help in Indochina. This conceivably could include naval and air units.

Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith faced Senate Foreign Relations Committee members in a closed session today in what could develop into a searching review of U. S. military strategy as it affects foreign policy.

In this connection, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, said in an interview he believes members of Congress need to know more about the administration's "new look" military program.

Wants More Data

"Our judgment is no better than our information," he said. "I want to get all the information that I can to determine whether we are being shortsighted in our military plans."

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) said in a separate interview he believes the imminent breakup in failure of the Big Four conference in Berlin "indicates there may be need for reconsideration of the drastic reduction of American ground forces."

He said American and British officials seem agreed that it will be necessary for American ground forces to remain in Europe indefinitely, adding: "How will the atomic bomb solve that problem?"

YEP, IT'S SINBAD'S BIRTHDAY. Naw, Sinbad, the gorilla, isn't mad at anybody. He's just gagging it up atop the shoulders of keeper Ray Hoff in Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo, because it was Sinbad's sixth birthday which explains the cake in Hoff's hands. Sinbad has taken over the No. 1 popularity spot at the zoo, where he succeeded the famous Bushman.

Figl Objects To Continued Red Control

Refusal To Withdraw Occupation Troops Draws Minister's Fire

BERLIN (AP) — Austria formally rejected today Russia's proposal to give the little nation "full independence" while reserving the right to keep occupation troops there indefinitely.

Austria's Foreign Minister Leopold Figl told the Big Four foreign minister's conference acceptance of the Soviet proposals would deprive his country of the most essential aim of an independence treaty—the withdrawal of foreign occupation troops.

'Can't Agree' To Change

"The Austrian federal government has authorized me to state officially that it can, therefore, not agree to any change of the present treaty draft," Figl added.

Figl took the floor to voice his government's snub of Moscow at the outset of the Big Four session in West Berlin's Allied Control Authority Bldg. He had come there directly from luncheon in the Russian embassy with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

The treaty acceptable to Austria, Figl said, is the one that the four occupation powers have been working on for seven years. Forty-seven of the 52 articles had been approved and the Russians had amendments for the remaining five before the Berlin conference.

West Ready To Sign

The West announced it would accept these five Soviet amendments and was ready to sign the treaty Thursday at 3 p. m.

Molotov wriggled out of that and presented new terms which would permit the Soviet army, and the other foreign troops, to remain on Austrian soil until German unification is accomplished. He already had torpedoed German unity.

The Big Four conference battle for France appeared ended after a clearcut French rejection of every major proposal made by Russia in the past three weeks here.

It was not known, however, what damage Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov may have done to the cause of the six-nation European Defense Community Treaty, soon to be brought up for ratification by the French Parliament.

Analyzes Proposal

In what was doubtless his major speech of the conference, French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault yesterday analyzed bit by bit the Soviet package deal for a European security pact which would neutralize Germany, push American assistance out of Europe and make Russia the sponsoring power in a "Molotov doctrine" for this continent.

Bidault turned it all down, quietly and firmly. He denounced the proposals one by one as not contributing in any big way to peace.

There remained the question whether the Western Big Three could pull out of the conference at the last minute some hope of ending the Indochina fighting this

Jury Briefed By Neighbors Of Sternbaum

Youth Tells How He Freed Mansfield Man From Burning Market

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Neighbors who lived near the supermarket office where Mrs. Leah Sternbaum was found dead and her body burned, testified at her husband's first degree murder trial today.

The four witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. John Bose, Charles Frye, all neighbors, and an 18-year-old boy, Charles Wade, who told the court he was passing on a bicycle and helped free Max Sternbaum who was caught in the front door of the burning building.

Breaks Latch

Wade said he broke the latch on the door and Sternbaum fell onto the porch of the supermarket office, mumbling, "my wife's inside."

Bose testified the building was dark, the first time he had ever seen it without at least a night light.

The state charges Sternbaum, 35-year-old supermarket executive, beat his wife to death, then set fire to the building. The state claims an "outside love affair" as the motive.

Sternbaum claims he was attacked by robbers shortly before his wife was to drive to the office and pick him up the night of Dec. 4, 1952.

Aided Sternbaum

Bose told the court he tried to help Sternbaum up when he and other neighbors arrived at the scene.

Bose said Sternbaum told him: "They tried to hold us up . . . My wife is in there burning up . . ."

Bose said he tried to enter the burning building and saw flames "close to the floor" in the middle room. The middle room was where the body of Sternbaum's attractive wife was found.

Bose said he ran upstairs to warn a tenant. He found the man, he told the court, already awake but confused because he couldn't find his pants.

The man is Harry Shriver who occupied one of the sleeping rooms on the second floor of the building that housed the ground floor supermarket offices. Shriver has not yet testified.

The witnesses all testified Sternbaum was lying face down and had blood on his clothes.

Paul Herbert, attorney for the 35-year-old Mansfield man, cross-examined Patrolman Richard Burton, Capt. Roehff Hout and Lt. Charles Letizia, all of the Mansfield police department.

Group Studies Procedure for Firing Officials

Duties of Solicitor, Auditor Discussed by Charter Commission

The Marion city charter commission last night discussed how City Council should remove unwanted executives it has hired.

The 12 members present of the 15-member commission deliberated for three and one-half hours in the YMCA on this and such other problems as the duties and powers of the city solicitor and directors of finance, how to redistrict the city in the event of population increases so all the people would be represented on council, and who should sign the city's checks under their proposed city manager form of government.

Mechanics Studied

The mechanics of firing employes, specifically the top ones, such as city manager, city solicitor and assistant city solicitor, drew the most attention.

The council, chief policy-making body, which was likened to a corporation's board of directors, employs these men and should have the right to fire them, commission members agreed. At a previous meeting, it was decided a two-thirds vote was necessary to suspend or remove the city manager.

Question Raised

It is the commission's desire that a suspended city manager should have a public hearing, if he so wishes, in which the reasons for his removal are stated and he is given a chance to reply. This is designed as a sort of public check on the Council.

But the question was raised: Suppose Council should suspend the city manager, without pay, and delay his hearing for some time. Two dangers would result. First, the city manager would be

Cool Weather Predicted; Low Of 30-35 Seen

After nearly three days of unseasonable spring - like temperatures in which the mercury reached the high 50s and 60s, cooler weather is again predicted.

Showers which began shortly after 7:30 this morning were expected to continue throughout today with the weather turning cooler during the day. The forecast for tonight and Wednesday is partly cloudy and colder, with the low tonight to be between 30 and 35.

Yesterday, a high of 67 was recorded, with the mercury dropping only to 51 last night. At 10:30 this morning it was 59. The high a year ago was 28 and the low 22.

Record books in at least five Ohio cities were changed by yesterday's June - in - February weather. According to an Associated Press dispatch, records were set in Toledo, where the temperature hit 69 degrees; Youngstown, 65, Cleveland, 66, Springfield, 70, Columbus, 70, and Dayton, 68.8.

Apparently the hottest spot in Ohio was Athens with an official 76. Close behind was Zanesville with 72.

House Committee Passes On First of Ike's Budgets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee made a barely perceptible scratch today in President Eisenhower's request for $3,338,783,000 to operate the Treasury and Postoffice departments for the fiscal year 1955.

It sent to the House floor for debate starting tomorrow a bill recommending for the two agencies $3,333,241,800 for the 12 months starting next July 1.

This is $5,541,400, or less than two-tenths of one per cent, below what the President requested. It is $50,491,150 less than the two agencies received for the present year.

First of Ike's Plans

The bill was the first handled by the committee on the basis of Eisenhower budget recommendations only. Last year's appropriation bills were based on original estimates by former President Truman and on revisions suggested by Eisenhower.

In addition to the $3,333,241,800 in new cash provided in the bill, the measure indirectly provides more than 17½ billion dollars for fixed charges and trust funds. The fixed charges, estimated at $10,191,602,145 for the new year, include $6,800,000,000 for interest on the national debt—an increase of 275 million over current year estimates—and $2,728,000,000 for tax refunds. The tax refund estimate is 342 million below current year estimates.

General Operations

For the Treasury's general operations, the committee approved $577,855,600, a reduction of $927,400 from the Eisenhower request.

For the postoffice, it recommended $2,755,386,000, a cut of $4,614,000 from the budget request.

The Internal Revenue Bureau received all but $88,000 of the $266,000,000 it requested, the new funds contemplating the employment of 650 additional revenue agents.

The White House police force, which helps guard the President, was given the full $712,000 it requested. Observing that four positions on the police force are to be eliminated, the committee voiced concern over the proposed reduction. It said it doesn't want to effect economies at the expense of "a proper protection of the President and his family."

The committee allotted the Post-office Department all but $4,614,000 of the $760,000,000 requested. The $2,755,386,000 recommended is $16,345,750 less than the agency was given for the present year.

The committee noted the estimated postal deficit for the next fiscal year, based on anticipated operating revenues of $2,431,000,000 will be 329 million dollars. This is 108 million under the operating deficit contemplated for this year.

The committee approved $1,070,000 for administrative expenses of the Export-Import Bank and $4,570,000 for similar expenses of the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

1 Dead, 24 Hurt As Tornadoes Lash Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Tornadoes struck in two widely separated sections of Arkansas last night, killing at least one person and injuring 24.

A twister that hit the Whitton community in east Arkansas killed W. L. Richardson, about 50. Four others were hurt in the storm.

A tornado also dipped into Clarksville, in west Arkansas, injuring 20 persons and wrecking more than a score of buildings.

At Clarksville, most of the injured were attending a basketball game at the College of the Ozarks' gymnasium when the twisting wind smashed that building.

Illinois Town Hit

PINCKNEYVILLE, Ill. (AP) — A tornado struck the nearby town of Conant early today damaging the community's only church and leaving a line of uprooted trees and toppled out-buildings in its wake. None was injured.

Reds in New Delhi Stone U.S. Property

NEW DELHI (AP)—A violent Communist - led mob attacked the United States Information Offices Library in the heart of Calcutta tonight as an outgrowth of a teachers strike there, smashing windows and setting fire to the library, according to telephone reports reaching New Delhi.

Reports to the United States Embassy here from Thomas J. Needham of New York, consulate public affairs officer in Calcutta, said police fired tear gas in a battle to control the demonstrators. The mob surged into the U. S. Information Offices on busy Chowringhee street destroying books and pamphlets and smashing padlocked doors, Needham said.

City Vandalism Continues, Two Youths Charged

Car Window Broken, Pair of Hubcaps Are Stolen During Spree

Petty thievery and vandalism which started in Marion over the weekend continued last night, city police reported today.

Two boys, one 15, the other 14, were taken into custody shortly after 9:30 p.m. Monday and charged with breaking out a window in a car owned by Carl Williams of 529 Thompson St. and parked in front of his residence.

The youths later told police they broke the window on a "dare" and used a large stick about the size of a baseball bat. Both were released to the custody of their parents and ordered to appear before Juvenile Officer Virgil Campbell this afternoon.

Theft of two hubcaps from his car was reported at 7:59 p.m. Monday by John Kightlinger of Caledonia. He said his car was parked at the north end of Campbell St. when the hubcaps were stolen. He valued them at $10.

Hubcaps were also stolen from a car at the Danner Buick Co. used car lot at E. Center and Greenwood Sts. sometime over the weekend. The theft was reported to police at 11 a.m. yesterday by an employee. The four hubcaps were valued at $50.

At 10:01 p.m. Monday Mrs. William Elsasser of 189 Jefferson St. called police and said the license plate from her car had been removed and a Michigan plate put on in its place. The car was

Sen. Knowland Pushes for Vote On Treaty Issue

Floor Leader Fighting Against Big Odds in Bid for Unified Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — A divided and quarreling Senate may come to grips today with the controversial provisions of the constitutional amendment proposed by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to limit treaty powers.

With no clear indications of any decisive majority sentiment, Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP leader, pressed toward a vote on a proposal which would require that treaties be made in "pursuance" of the Constitution.

Action Held Up

This White House-favored clause, however, had to wait in line until the Senate disposed first of a proposal to require roll-call Senate votes on ratification of treaties. This is acceptable to almost everyone except a score of senators who oppose any constitutional change.

Knowland tried to get the Senate to approve this latter proposal yesterday after it had voted 62-20 to require that executive agreements, as well as treaties, must conform to the Constitution.

But such a parliamentary snarl developed that Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) rose to inquire at one point: "How messed up and confoundedly confused can you get?"

Favors Roll Call Vote

Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash) said he thinks executive agreements, as well as treates, ought to be included as matters on which the Senate would be required to vote by recorded roll call, instead of by voice vote.

Such executive agreements now are not submitted to Congress in most instances. Proposals to make them inoperative as internal law unless they get congressional approval have drawn White House objections.

While there was plenty of bickering over legal points, the roll-call vote proposal was looked upon by all sides as a relatively minor issue.

But the provision offered by Knowland and Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) to require treaties to be made in "pursuance" of the Constitution seemed likely to stir a fight. Its sponsors say it is designed to guarantee that treaties are subject to court review on the question of constitutionality.

Sen. George Opposes

Bricker said he had no objection to it, but Sen. George (D-Ga), leader of a group of Democrats, was opposed.

Yesterday's vote, on what was at best only a sideline issue, disclosed that 17 Democrats, Republican Senators Cooper of Kentucky and Langer of North Dakota, and Morse (Ind-Ore) intend to fight

Wins 13 Nominations

'From Here to Eternity' Out Front in Oscar Derby

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"From Here to Eternity" has swept through with 13 nominations in the Oscar derby and appears to be the picture to beat.

The nominees, which were announced last night, showed a strong favoring for the hard-bitten Army drama. It drew an amazing five nominations for its stars and at least three of them were strongly favored to win.

Lancaster Favored

Current Hollywood betting favors tough Burt Lancaster for the top Oscar because of his sergeant's role in "Eternity." Deborah Kerr, who abandoned queenly roles to play an Army wife of loose morals, could also be a winner, although Audrey Hepburn of "Roman Holiday" appears the favorite so far.

Crooner Frank Sinatra and Donna Reed appear to be heavy choices for the supporting Oscars. Although both had star billing in "Eternity," they were classified as supporting players.

The major nominations were:

Best Actor

Best actor—Lancaster; Marlon Brando, "Julius Caesar;" Richard Burton, "The Robe;" Montgomery Clift, "From Here to Eternity;" William Holden, "Stalag 17."

Best actress—Miss Kerr, Miss Hepburn; Leslie Caron, "Lili;" Ava Gardner, "Mogambo;" Maggie McNamara, "The Moon is Blue."

Best supporting actress—Miss Reed; Grace Kelly, "Mogambo;"

Dean Speaks in Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Arthur Dean says "present evidence" indicates the Communists do not wish to resume the Korean War.

Dean, head of the U.S. delegation to the Korean peace conference, spoke last night before the Chamber of Commerce.

He said he recessed the peace talks because the Communists had accused the United States of "intentional treachery."

'Orchid Paradise' Boosts Spirits of Cave Explorers

By ED EASTERLY

CRYSTAL CAVE, Ky. (AP)—The sight of "an orchid paradise" in stone today rewarded the men and women of nerve and stamina who are penetrating the lower level of Crystal Cave.

And the spectacle, found 300 feet below the earth's surface in this Mammoth Cave National Park area, is believed to be only a sample of the wonders hidden in the wilderness of unexplored passages.

Steps Up Tempo

The National Speleological (cave study) Society, now fully manned and equipped at its advance camp three miles from the cave entrance, stepped up the tempo of exploration on the third day of its seven-day expedition.

The search was put on a round-the-clock basis, with four teams in the field at all times.

The room of enormous flower-like formations in gypsum is on the edge of the uncharted area and had been observed before by only a few intrepid explorers.

William Burke Miller, an NBC newsman accompanying the expedition, described it as "an orchid paradise on the ceiling" and "the most beautiful sight any of us had ever seen."

Hang in Clusters

The stone flowers, he said, "hung in clusters of indescribable beauty and their colors ranged from pure white to red brown."

They formed over the centuries in a reaction of the limestone with moisture in a circular room 18 feet in circumference and five feet high.

The sight whetted the enthusiasm of the 32 men and women in the expedition's Advance Camp

Charges Tax Money For State Insurance Supports Democrats

UPPER SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—James A. Rhodes, Republican candidate for governor, charged last night tax money spent for state insurance premiums supports the Ohio Democratic organization.

Rhodes, state auditor and former mayor of Columbus, didn't mention any names, but he apparently referred to Eugene H. Hanhart of Lover, Democratic state chairman, when he said:

"Not everyone knows that his (Gov. Frank J. Lausche's) hand-picked chairman of the Democratic party is in the insurance business and in the last five years an extremely prosperous insurance promoter."

He said it was "common talk" that "Mr. Lausche's chairman" is responsible for placing much of the state's insurance business, and added:

"The public is entitled to know what part of the premium which is paid from the tax dollars of the state finds its way into supporting Democratic headquarters and the aims and ambitions of the present chief executive."

Rhodes, in a talk at a Wyandot County Lincoln Day banquet, said the state liquor department has 50 million dollars of insurance coverage. Hanhart, he said, is the "guiding genius in the placing of this business."

Gov. Lausche, reached at the executive mansion in Columbus, said he had no comment on Rhodes' statements.

Whereas some of the youngsters would like to get out, the pooch insists on getting in. Shortly after classes get under way, "Kaiser" starts scratching on the door until it is opened. Usually he stretches out and waits, but here he gets a lesson from Richard Koziel, 11.

Roosevelt Goes On Stand, Says Papers Stolen

Charge Made During Testimony on Wife's Petition for Support

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — James Roosevelt, who says documents were missing from his files after his estranged wife broke into his office last August, resumes the stand today at a hearing on her petition for support.

The hearing is to determine whether the eldest son of the late President Franklin Roosevelt is able to pay $3,500 a month demanded by his wife Romelle. She seeks the sum for herself and their three children pending trial of their separate maintenance suits.

Mrs. Roosevelt contends her husband is worth two million dollars and he claims he is $78,000 in debt.

One of her attorneys, Arthur E. Schifferman, yesterday introduced a torn-up document referring to a $2,500 trust payable on demand to Irene Owens

Schifferman told reporters this was the Gladys Irene Owens whom Mrs. Roosevelt named with two other women as co-respondents. Mrs. Roosevelt, 38, accuses her husband of infidelities with 12 women. The attorney said Mrs. Owens formerly was employed by one of Roosevelt's insurance firms.

Schifferman also questioned Roosevelt, who was on the stand in Superior Court the entire day, about a 2.83-carat, $5,000 diamond ring purchased last November. Roosevelt, 46, claimed he bought it for his wife, but one of her lawyers said it was not her size and she never received it.

Federal Stamp Purchasers Investigated

Heat Put on Northeast Ohio Gambling

By BILL NEWKIRK
Associated Press Staff Writer

The heat was on in many northeastern Ohio cities today for the men who make bets for profit. Raiding and vows of vigorous law enforcement have followed publication of the names of federal gambling stamp purchasers in the area.

The list, obtained from the Internal Revenue Bureau's Cleveland office, was published by many newspapers in the area last week. Since then, 26 men have been arrested in Akron and Massillon by vice squad policemen, and officials have indicated there are more arrests to come.

Mere Federal Aid?

Told of this, Parker C. Williams, district internal revenue director, said he was glad the stamp purchases were proving valuable to local law enforcement agencies. But from some quarters came opinions that the federal government should take a more active role in rooting out gambling.

Government records show 297 of the $50 stamps have been bought in the revenue bureau's 22-county northeast Ohio district during this fiscal year, which ends next June 30. Though there were 570 sales two years ago when the stamp first was required, local communities are still concerned with gambling in their areas.

In Dover, the Daily Reporter noted that stamp purchases there rose from 8 last year to 11 this year. It said in an editorial:

"Operation of commercialized gambling, with the blessing of law enforcement officials, corrupts public officials, feeds criminal syndicates and contributes to a general deterioration of law and order."

Nab 3 in Massillon

Three men were arrested in Massillon last night when police raided the Massillon News Exchange Co. and carted away a truckload of gambling devices. Four gambling stamps are registered to persons giving the place as their address.

In Akron, police raiders burst into a N. Howard street building Saturday night and arrested 23 men crowded into a 9 by 12 foot back room. A table in the room held a pair of loaded dice, cards, a knife and a bottle of gin. Eleven of the men pleaded guilty to a "suspicion of gambling" charge yesterday and were released with a warning and suspended court costs.

Warren police picked up Nick Papalas Friday night, charging him with possession of 20 numbers books. The police didn't learn until Saturday that Papalas held a gambling stamp. His case still is pending.

Watch Numbers Men

Youngstown Police Chief Paul H. Cress said he was keeping a close watch on two reputed bosses of a big numbers racket in the steel city. The vice squad there, said Cress is trying to determine the number of men working for the pair.

East Liverpool's mayor, E. Allan McKeever, said there have been no gambling arrests in his city since the list was published, but that "we are investigating the names on that list, and if we catch anyone gambling, we will prosecute them." Nine East Liverpool men hold gambling stamps.

Steubenville reported a big increase in its number of stamp holders—26 this year against only three last year. Mayor Samuel McCormach said the police are investigating the names, "but being the purchaser of a stamp doesn't necessarily mean the person is engaged in gambling."

Cleveland, with 101 stamp buyers, has long been battling it out with the wager makers. Only yesterday, Ernest Render, convicted of operating a numbers game, was given a 1-7 year prison sentence. Two of his partners, Joseph Buemi and Frank Jones, were sentenced to two months in the workhouse.

In two cities, authorities were taking immediate steps to gain possession of the stamps in their areas.

Mayor Harley R. Ewing of Alliance said "It seems to me there is an unusual number of stamp holders in Alliance, and I am going to ask for the surrender of the stamps on a voluntary basis."

Safety Director Stanley Cmich of Canton said four of eight stamps issued to residents there have been turned in voluntarily. Massillon Mayor Edgar L. Lash has collected 15 of 22 stamps held by persons in his city and says he will mail them back to the Internal Revenue Bureau.

In Massillon, an ordinance prepared by Norman J. Putnam, city solicitor, was given its first reading last night. The ordinance would outlaw the possession of gambling devices. He said he believes no gambling ordinance can be effective without the "possession" clause. Canton has such a clause in its gambling law.

Canton Mayor Carl Wise was one of the officials who criticized the federal government's attitude toward gambling. In an indirect reference to this, he declared he will see that the stamp holder "has no opportunity to exercise the privileges to which, under federal law only, he is entitled for purchasing the stamp."

Raps Law's Weakness

Cress, the Youngstown police chief, also hit what he called a weakness in the federal law. Under the law, he said, "the holding of a stamp does not prove a man is a gambler . . . mere possession of a stamp does not prove a man is a gambler."

Alliance Mayor Ewing criticized as "inconsistent" the Ohio law "which permits the sale of mutuel cards at race tracks where the state has legalized gambling, and frowns upon a simple mechanical device such as the pinball machine."

"If we are to make a unified effort against gambling," he said "the state has no right to legalize any form of gambling. It is time that everyone took a unified stand."

Police, Patrol List 3 Mishaps

Parked Car Damaged In Hit-Skip Accident

A hit-skip accident and one other minor collision were reported today by Marion police. State patrolmen reported one accident in the county.

The hit-skip occurred at 3:30 p.m. Monday when an unidentified car traveling north on Davis St. struck a car parked near Woodrow Ave. and owned by Ralph Hawk of near Delaware. Driver of the hit-skip car stopped, got out and looked at the damage, and then drove off, witnesses told police.

Other accident at N. Prospect and W. Center Sts. at 1:15 p.m. Monday involved cars driven by Earl Houseworth, 39, of near Marion and Walter E. Baker, 46, of near Marion.

Pig Killed in 'Collision'

This little piggy didn't go to market.

In the only Marion County accident reported today by the Marion post of the state highway patrol, a six-months-old Hampshire gilt owned by W. R. Brooks of near Marion, strolled across Route 98 one and a half miles south of Kirkpatrick.

The pig collided headon with a car driven by Harry L. Funk, 41, of Huron. Funk was not injured but the front end of his car was badly damaged.

The pig was killed.

Commissioners Order Plans for Road Be Made

Marion County commissioners Monday requested the county engineer's office to proceed with plans for the construction of Carolyn Drive after viewing the proposed site.

The road, petitioned for by James C. Neff and others, is located in the Wheeler Addition east of Marion.

Marion Youths Win Nomination To Posts in Model Legislature

Marion youths did themselves proud in Toledo Saturday.

Six Harding High School young people — Robert Knachel, 17, James Kratzer, 17, Dick Renn, 17, Walter Rissler, 16, Carol Bachman, 17, and Carol Morgan, 16,—represented Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs at a pre-legislative training conference Saturday at Toledo University. This was a preliminary meeting for the YMCA Ohio Model Legislature which will meet in the Capitol building in Columbus April 23 through 25.

These six youth leaders walked away with more than their share of honors at Toledo. One of the purposes of the meeting was to nominate candidates for the various state officers: governor, lieutenant governor, speaker of the House, clerk of the Senate, and chaplain. In addition, senators were chosen to represent regular Ohio senatorial districts and each county elected a representative, also as is done in the real legislature.

With 130 delegates voting, it was not too likely that the local group would elect a senator and nominate the speaker of the house, but that is exactly what happened.

Altogether five Marion young people will attend the Columbus meeting. Robert Knachel was elected senator representing the 13-31 district. This comprises Seneca, Logan, Wyandot, Crawford, Hardin, Union, besides Marion Counties, and its real senator is J. E. Simpson of Forest. James Kratzer was nominated speaker of the House of Representatives. He will be one of five such nominees at Columbus. Dick Renn was elected by the local group as Marion County representative. The real representative is Kenneth A. Robinson of Marion. Carol Bachman was named Renn's alternate.

Carol Morgan was one of ten in the state chosen as newspaper representatives to work with the press correspondents at the April meeting. Carol is a journalism student at Harding.

The full slate of candidates elected by the northwest district was as follows: governor, Kenneth Caldwell of Fostoria; lieutenant governor, Joseph Kabat, Jr. of Toledo; speaker, James Kratzer; clerk, James Schaib of Toledo; chaplain, Alan Campbell of Elyria.

Sternbaum

He tried to link a burglar named Louis Morris to the death of attractive 31-year-old Leah Stern-Sternbaum, Dec. 4, 1952. Morris killed himself Dec. 5, 1952, after police cornered him in a Mansfield laundry. They said he had broken into the place.

The state is trying to show Sternbaum clubbed his wife to death with a wrench in his supermarket office and then set fire to the building.

Sternbaum said burglars—one a man in an army jacket, brown pants and brown work shoes—attacked him and his wife and burned the building. He said he fled to safety.

Herbert asked Burton and Hout if Morris "was dressed something like the man Max Sternbaum described."

Wore Army Jacket

Burton replied: "All I can remember is he had an army jacket on."

Said Hout: "He was wearing khaki trousers and work shoes." Hout said Morris had a record of crimes of violence and had used a weapon previously.

Letizia said he found Sternbaum lying on the ground outside the building when he investigated the fire. Both the front and back doors of the building were locked at the time, Letizia said. He said he did not know whether the doors had spring locks, allowing someone to leave the building and permitting a door to swing shut and lock itself.

unfairly kept high and dry for that interval, and second, if Council decided not to remove him after all, he could rightly expect to collect his salary for the period of his suspension.

Some commission members felt a time limit should be placed on when the hearing should follow the suspension. Others argued that it might take time for Council to prepare its case and it should not be hamstrung with a time limit. Several alternatives were suggested, but no decision could be reached. It was agreed to think about the matter and discuss it again next week.

Earlier the commission had tentatively approved a plan for setting up future ward redistricting arrangements. As it now stands the plan is for a nine member Council, six elected from wards, and three at large. When the city population reaches 40,000 another ward will be added, as will happen with each additional 15,000 increase in population.

Reverse Decision

Reversing an earlier plan, the commission decided that when the Council reaches 12 or more in number, two out of every three members should be elected from wards and the remainder at-large. Under the number 12, the ratio is 2 to 1. Prior to last night's meeting, the commission had favored a 4 to 1 ratio after Council reached 12 members.

The commission tentatively agreed, also, to limit Council membership at 15; more would be cumbersome, they felt. Fifteen members would be reached when Marion's population numbered 115,000.

The commission members approved tentatively the wording of a draft setting Council terms at two years, with first elections occurring in 1955.

They accepted, temporarily, provisions stating that the state laws governing use of the initiative, referendum and recall should be applied to Marion.

Considerable discussion was then given to the proposed office of city solicitor. Their earlier decision had been to have the office closely parallel the set-up under the present mayor-council system. Last night they approved, tentatively, qualifications as follows: He must be a licensed Ohio attorney admitted to practice for five years, and a three-year resident of Marion.

Assistant Solicitor

The charter commission's plan is for an assistant city solicitor rather than the present police prosecuting attorney. They agreed, tentatively, that the assistant, like the solicitor, should be employed by Council and be an attorney living in Marion and admitted to practice in this state. A problem of legal terminology then arose. Did the prosecuting attorney represent the Marion Municipal Court or the city of Marion? Since this was a rather involved legal problem, it was decided to let the two attorneys on the commission, Walter Moore and Henry Mickley, discuss the matter and report on it at the next meeting.

Next came the proposed department of finance. A week ago an unsolved problem had been the question of who was to supervise this department, Council or the city manager. This week the decision was reached to have the city manager do it. Members felt it would make for more efficient government. They also decided not to have the same provisions for removal of finance officers that they would have for city manager and city solicitor.

The commission tentatively approved, with minor changes, the draft setting up the powers and duties of the director of finance and the assistant director. Duties of the former would parallel the present city auditor's and the assistant's duties are similar to the present treasurer's.

The final discussion before adjournment centered around who was to sign checks making payments out of public funds. The decision was tentatively reached to have the assistant director of finance sign them and the city manager countersign. In the event of the absence of either offical Council would designate the proper official.

parked at the rear of the YMCA on E. Church St. between 7 and 10 p.m. when the plates were switched, she said.

Police investigated and found the plate from Mrs. Elsasser's car had been placed on a car owned by Fred Thomas residing at the YMCA from which the Michigan license had been taken. Both plates were returned to their owners, police said.

11 Drivers Stopped By State Patrolmen

Eleven traffic arrests were reported today by the Marion post of the state highway patrol.

Scheduled to appear before Judge W. Dexter Hazen in Municipal Court were the following drivers: John Smart, 33, 364 E. Church St., on a speeding charge; Willie McCormher, 34, Detroit, speeding; Harry M. Krone, 55, Chicago, passing on yellow line; Chester Wright, 26, Detroit, speeding; Ewin Arnold, 48, 190 Superior St., reckless operation; Douglas Johnson, 19, Fremont, passing on yellow line; and Ardo Burrell, 45, Arlington, speeding.

Others arrested were George Subin, 26, Cleveland, speeding, fined $25 and costs by Justice of the Peace R. R. Bennington of Mt. Gilead; Joe Fehn, 34, Newtown, failure to obey stop sign, fined $10 and costs by Bennington; Herman Arnold, 32, Parma, speeding, $20 and costs, Bennington; and Walter Yake, 27, near Cardington, failure to make a left turn, cited for Mt. Gilead Mayor Emery M. Murphy's court today.

Discussion on School Problems Set by PTA

Group discussions on six phases of home and school problems will be held tonight at the Pearl Street School PTA meeting at 7:30.

Discussion topics and group leaders include: discipline, by J. D. Whisler, director of pupil personnel in Marion City schools; grades, by Ray J. Silver, principal at Olney and Oakland schools; physicial education, by R. J. Peach, elementary physical education instructor; how well are the 3 R's being taught, by Floyd Hofacker, principal at Glenwood; character education, by Marvin Ludwig, YMCA youth secretary; and homework, by Joseph Dupuis, sixth grade teacher at Vernon elementary.

A business meeting will precede the discussions.

Honeymooning Couple Badly Hurt in Mishap

Tragedy struck young Dayton honeymooners at 12:30 p.m. yesterday in the form of a traffic accident two miles south of the Marion County line on Route 4.

According to the Marion post of the state highway patrol, the car driven by Army Pvt. Herbert Shaper Jr., 20, went out of control, turned over and hit a telephone pole.

Officers said Shaper apparently had gone to sleep at the wheel. The car went on the berm of the road, awakening the driver, who swerved it to miss a mailbox. The car then careened across the highway out of control.

Shaper suffered scalp lacerations and a concussion. His young bride, Ann Shaper, also 20, sustained fractured ribs and collarbone, internal injuries and shock.

They were taken to Marion City Hospital by the Ballinger ambulance of Richwood, where their condition is reported this morning by hospital authorities to be "fairly good."

Shaper is stationed with Third Armored Division in Fort Knox, Ky.

Bucyrus Man Sentenced To Five-Day Jail Term

A Bucyrus man charged with drunken driving by Marion police pleaded guilty in Municipal Court this morning, was sentenced to five days in the Marion County jail, fined $100 and costs and his driver's license suspended for three years.

J. R. Dunn, 35, was arrested on E. Center St. Feb. 5, entered a not guilty plea and posted bond for his appearance Feb. 25. He appeared Monday, said he would like to plead guilty and was sentenced by Judge W. Dexter Hazen.

Concert Slated Tonight

Doors of the Harding High School gymnasium will open tonight at 7:30 o'clock for patrons of the concert to be given by Miss Barbara Gibson, coloratura soprano, at 8:15 o'clock. Miss Gibson was to arrive here early this afternoon from Jersey City, N. J.

WYANDOT DAIRYMEN MEET

UPPER SANDUSKY — "How can we get more for our milk?" is the question to be discussed Thursday afternoon here by Wyandot County dairymen in the second of a series of educational meetings held in cooperation with the Agricultural Extension Service. Featured speaker for the 1:30 p.m. meeting will be Glen Wagner, manager of the Northwestern Co-operative Sales Association of Toledo. Other men to appear are: Earl Poling, secretary of the American Dairy Association and Ed Landversicht, manager of the Chief Dairy Plant here. The session will be held in the assembly room of the courthouse.

North Carolina estimates it has about 9,250,000 laying hens.

Oscars

Geraldine Page, "Hondo;" Marjorie Rambeau, "Torch Song." Thelma Ritter, "Pickup on South Street."

Best supporting actor—Sinatra; Eddie Albert, "Roman Holiday;" Brando de Wilde, "Shane;" Robert Strauss, "Stalag 17;" Jack Palance, "Shane."

Best song—"The Moon is Blue," from the film "The Moon is Blue;" "My Flaming Heart," from "Small Town Girl;" "Sadie Thompson's Song," from "Miss Sadie Thompson;" "Secret Love," from "Calamity Jane;" "That's Amore," from "The Caddy."

Best documentary — "The Conquest of Everest," "The Living Desert," "A Queen is Crowned."

Despite "From Here to Eternity's" amazing showing, it set no record. "All About Eve" won 15 nominations, and "Gone With the Wind," "Johnny Belinda" and "A Streetcar Named Desire" scored 13, the same as "Eternity."

Close runner-up in the 1953 sweepstakes is "Roman Holiday," a light comedy filmed in Rome, which netted 10 nominations. It was followed by by "Lili" and "Shane" with six and "Julius Caesar" and "The Robe" with five. Of the leaders, only "The Robe" was filmed in one of the industry's new-dimensional techniques.

The final Oscar winners will be voted on by the academy's 1,600 members following nominations by bulk of the industry's workers. The coveted gold statuettes will be handed to the lucky few before television cameras at the Hollywood Pantages Theater March 25.

Conversion to Dial Phones Under Way

General Telephone Co. of Ohio is moving rapidly ahead with a more than $350,000 program toward the conversion to dial of exchanges at Mechanicsburg, Plain City, Catawba, Resaca and Woodstock, R. C. Fesenmyer, division commercial manager of the company reported today.

A new central office building at Mechanicsburg has been completed while at Plain City work is virtually completed on a similar building. Last year General also erected new buildings at Catawba, Resaca and Woodstock to house the new automatic equipment for these exchanges. Headquarters of the company are at Marion.

Work has been under way changing all telephones in the five exchanges to dial type. Each of the 2200 instruments now in service will be changed for the conversions of the exchanges which are scheduled to be cut to dial the latter part of April, Fesenmyer said.

$17 Stolen in Burglary At Boyd's Beauty Shop

Burglary of Boyd's Beauty Shop at 168 W. Center St. and theft of $17 was reported today by Marion police.

Florence Boyd, owner and operator, called police at 6:45 p.m. Monday and said that sometime between 6 p.m. and 6:40 p.m. the shop was broken into.

Police investigated and found entrance was apparently gained by breaking out the front door glass. Nothing was touched except the cash drawer from which the money was taken, police said.

Mrs. Boyd told police she had noticed three youths acting in a suspicious manner near the shop a few minutes earlier. Police are continuing their investigation.

The first organized Mardi Gras street parade in New Orleans was held Feb. 27, 1838.

Prefers To Dicker Separately

Teamsters' Boss Opposes Union 'No Raiding' Pact

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Dave Beck, president of the AFL Teamsters Union, today indicated he prefers to negotiate his own private peace treaty with competing unions rather than enter the proposed AFL-CIO "no raiding" pact.

He steered clear of making any commitment on the AFL-CIO plan pending a conference with a score of lawyers and the teamsters' General Executive Board today and tomorrow.

But he made it plain he felt the most effective way of solving labor wars is for unions to barter out their own peace arangements union by union.

"We expect to continue to try to reach bilateral agreements with sister unions within the AFL to spell out each one's jurisdiction and join in joint organizing campaigns," he said.

He disclosed such an agreement had been virtually completed this week with the AFL Upholsterers Union, outlining the jurisdiction of each and making arrangements so that each will eventually surrender members properly belonging to the other. A joint committee is to negotiate out any conflicts.

Beck previously has negotiated similar agreements with the International Association of Machinists and other unions. He said negotiations are planned with the operating engineers, bakers workers, laundry employes and amalgamated meat cutters, all AFL unions.

The teamsters chief, whose union claims 1,300,000 members, is reportedly opposed to the AFL-CIO "no raiding" plan. This would bind AFL and CIO unions from seeking to invade each other's organizing territory, with an umpire to decide disputes. The AFL is trying to establish a similar plan to arbitrate squabbles within the AFL itself.

Beck was reported by associates as feeling that unions will ignore jurisdictional awards handed down in arbitration, even though they might risk court action, but are more likely to stick to agreements voluntarily negotiated.

Beck yesterday defended his million-dollar loan of union funds to the Fruehauf Trailer Co., Detroit, as being perfectly legal under the teamsters' constitution.

Martin Crouse, former teamsters' local official at Yakima, Wash., has charged the transaction violated a constitutional proviso limiting to $50,000 the amount of union money that can be invested in any one firm's bonds. Crouse asked the Executive Board, at its current winter session, to oust Beck.

against any constitutional amendment on the issue.

Revision of a proposed amendment on the Senate floor requires a simple majority, but passage must be by a two-thirds majority of those voting. Then, before the amendment could become a part of the Constitution, it would have to be approved by a like margin in the House and ratified by three-fourths of the states.

Day Center in Galion Completes Cycle

2nd Generation Member Becomes a Student At City Nursery

GALION — Four - year - old Linda Lee Monroe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Monroe III, of Galion, has the distinction of being the first child of a second generation to attend the Day Child Care Center at Galion.

The center celebrated its 20th anniversary in Galion last month and is one of the oldest organizations of its kind in the state. It provides a place for children to stay while their parents are working or in cases where one or both parents are too ill to care for them.

Mrs. Monroe herself has the distinction of being one of the first pupils at the center. She was attending the center in 1934 when it was organized and now serves as president of the parents' group at the center. Mrs. Sara Beegle is director of the center and has served in that capacity since its organization.

Mrs. Monroe, in commending the center, said, "Linda Lee is an only child and her attendance at the center gives her a chance to play with other children, to learn to share and to benefit from the educational training which the center offers. The fact that there are dietician-planned meals makes it possible for me to hardly have to think about Linda Lee while I am working."

Linda's mother is a secretary at the Power Equipment Co. in Galion and her father is employed at Perfection Steel Body Co.

Supplemental funds to run the center are received from the Galion Community Chest. This helps to defray expenses where fees from the parent or parents are not adequate to cover. Equipment and gifts from clubs, individuals and other groups have been accepted at the center to aid in its operation. Since 1936, the center has had an advisory council. Grace Thomas is now serving as president of the council.

The center was incorporated in 1948. Peak enrollment at the center is 50. The children range in age from 20 months to 12 years.

FIRST, MOTHER, AND NOW, DAUGHTER. Mrs. Charles Monroe III was one of first pupils at the 20-year-old Galion Day Child Care Center and now her daughter, Linda Lee, is enrolled there. The center was organized in 1934 and incorporated in 1948. Its operating fund is supplemented by the Galion Community Chest.

Party Leaders To Visit OWU

Take Part in College Program on Politics

DELAWARE — Republican and Democratic leaders of Ohio, who are expecting to see a lot of action during this campaign year, are taking advantage of an invitation by Ohio Wesleyan University to meet with their fellow party members on the campus in "coffee pot caucuses."

William H. Eells, acting director of the college's Institute of Practical Politics, said today that he is getting an "enthusiastic response" to invitations for Republican Recruitment Day, March 1, and Democratic Recruitment Day, March 8.

Congressman Dewey Short (R-Missouri) will be the headline speaker for the GOP day and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, will give the major talk on Democratic Day the following Monday.

Other acceptances of invitations to the Republican meeting have come from David Baumhart, executive director of the Republican National Committee; Ray Bliss, GOP state chairman; Attorney General C. William O'Neill; Lt. Gov. John Brown; State Treasurer Roger Tracy; House Speaker William Saxbe, and Dr. Floyd McCaffree, director of research of the GOP National Committee.

Acceptances for the Democratic meeting have come from National Committeeman Byron G. Allen, of Minnesota; Mrs. Bernice S. Pyke, of Cleveland, president of the Ohio Democratic Women, and Mayor Sensenbrenner of Columbus. Ohio's First Lady, Mrs. Frank J. Lausche, will lead a delegation of cabinet members and state officials to the meeting.

In 1940 the population of 4,355,000 in Berlin was exceeded only by the populations of London, New York and Tokyo.

Licensing of Food Handlers Moving Ahead on Schedule

Licensing of Marion County food service operations is progressing satisfactorily, a report from Marion County Sanitarian Ralph A. Augenstein indicates.

All restaurants in the county now have their licenses, and about half of the restaurants have been inspected. However, a few churches, lodges and granges have not obtained licenses yet, Augenstein said.

Licensing of food service operations was transferred to local health departments under a state law which became effective Jan. 1. Formerly licensing was handled by the state fire marshal's office. Under the new law, provision was made for uniform sanitation standards and approval of plans, equipment and supplies by the Ohio Department of Health.

A food service operation is defined as any structure or building, permanent or temporary, mobile or stationery, which is kept, maintained, advertised, or held out to the public to be a place where meals or lunches are served for a consideration.

RUSSELL'S DANCE CENSORED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state film censorship board has approved the film "The French Line" but won't allow showing the song and dance routine of its star, Jane Russell. Dr. Clyde Hissong, chief Ohio film censor, says the five-minute song and dance are "unsuitable for general exhibition."

Four chapters of Delta Kappa Gamma, educational fraternity for women teachers, met in Galion Saturday. It was the annual joint initiation and luncheon meeting of Eta, Iota, Kappa, and Lambda chapters, and was held at First Methodist Church, with Lambda chapter members serving as hostesses. Miss Lenore Bowdle conducted the initiation, assited by Miss Bernice Peoples, Miss Helen Sherer, Mr. Ruth Leicy and Miss Helen Jean Weidemaier, for two initiates, Miss Opal Oman of Carey, and Mrs. Ada Pauline Lenhart of Roundhead. A third candidate, Miss Mary Belle Baker of Delaware, was unable to be present.

Mrs. Harold Edward Andrews, professor of literature at Ashland College was guest speaker for a discusion on "Far Horizons."

An organ recital, dedicating the new memorial Connsonata electric organ at the Market Street Methodist Church, was presented by Dale Sanderlin, a former Galion resident, Sunday afternoon. Sanderlin is organist at the Presbyterian Church in Lexington. The organ was formally dedicated at the morning service. Miss Clara Manzer of Galion gave the organ to the church in memory of her mother, Mrs. Emma Gugler Manzer, a lifelong member of the church. The presentation of the organ was made by Miss Laura Koppe, friend of the family, to Rev. Raymond L. Butler.

The morning sermon, following the dedication, was delivered by Dr. S. E. LaFollette, district superintendent of Mansfield.

William Enders, who plays baseball with a New York Yankees farm team, has been initiated into the Alpha Gamma chapter of Sigma Chi Fraternity at Ohio State University. He is a sophomore at the university, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Enders of Galion.

One of the most delightful programs of the Galion Community Concerts series was given Saturday night at Senior High School auditorium by a quintet billed as "The Angelaires."

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

Out of the Carny Circuit

"You Asked for It" isa vaguely menacing title, sounding like something one gangster snarls at another just before rubbing him out.

J. CROSBY

As a television show, it is not so much menacing as just plain surprising. "You Asked for It" bills itself as "TV's greatest all-request program" and the things people have requested for that program would give a psychiatrist food for thought for a year.

Everything on the show has been requested by viewers who have some strange tastes. If you'd been looking recently, you'd have seen a 62-year-old grandmother catch a baseball thrown from the roof of an 18-story building, a memory expert do tricks with six - figure numbers, a skater jump through a burning wall, a pair of identical twins made up to look totally unlike, and a kangaroo box a fighter named George Spotts. (Spotts won easily.)

SOMEWHERE IN THE world, somebody sat down and wrote a letter requesting each of these things. I keep trying to reconstruct the mental processes of a woman who gets a sudden desperate urge to see a 62-year-old grandmother catch a baseball thrown from an 18-story building.

I expect she's seen everything else—the Taj Mahal by moonlight, Native Dancer winning the Belmont, Jackie Gleason breaking his leg. There simply wasn't anything left to see expect a grandmother catching baseballs. And now what has she got to look forward to?

Among the dizzy requests received by Art Baker, the emcee of this operation, animal acts outrun everything else. The flea circus has been on three times. A bull in a china closet has been on twice. Then there was a cat who played table tennis and a horse that skated and an octopus that wrestled. (Any chance of pitching that octopus up against the kangaroo in a catch-as-catch-can?)

"YOU ASKED FOR IT" claims to be the first one to show movies of a Hopi Indian snake dance in which the Indians — praying for rain—hold rattlesnakes in their mouths. (I don't know whether they got any rain or not.) On the same show a man fought a Himalayan bear.

Of course, you don't always get animals. There are some plain ordinary humans like a 73-year-old "human locomotive" who pulled two freight cars with his teeth, a pianist without any hands, a lady bullfighter, and Evelyn Smith, "The Muscle Woman," who claims to be the strongest woman in America.

And if that isn't enough for you, the program has also presented Tex Haggen, the man with the iron jaw, who chewed bolts in half; Al Greenberg, the world's champion with a slingshot, and Dorothy Wilson who walks on sharp Japanese swords in her bare feet.

YOU MUSTN'T GET the idea that they stop at nothing on this show. Several people have written wilfully reqquesting to be shown an electrocution or maybe just a little hanging. Absolutely not, said Mr. Baker. Too morbid.

Baker, incidentally, is a fast-talking, white-thatched, jovial gentleman who sounds as if he had had experience as a carnival barker. Certainly a good many of the acts he presents have come out of the carny circuit. You'll find it on ABC-TV (7 p.m. EST Sundays).

Jack Benny's last show was advertised as "live from Television City." But it wasn't live; it was film and, frankly, it was not up to the usual Benny standards.

Every one of Benny's filmed shows. Benny even looks different —handsomer, younger, more slicked up and not nearly as real —or as funny. And why advertise a live show when it isn't?

It's interesting, but probably not too surprising, that the husbands of the ten best-dressed women never show up among the ten best-dressed men.

Mrs. Richard Zachman To Appear on TV Show

Mrs. Richard Zachman of Marion will be a guest on the Kitchen Fair television program Wednesday over WBNS, Channel 10, in Columbus. Guest cooks appear each day to introduce and show favorite recipes on Jeanne Shea's program from 1 to 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. Zachman, a native of Japan, will be in costume for the program and will demonstrate the making of various Japanese foods.

Baker Wood Company Honors Retired Employe

Dolphus Adams of 1120 W. Center St., who retired recently after 26 years' association with the Baker Wood Preserving Co., was presented a wrist watch during a short program attended by company employes.

J. C. English, manager of the Marion plant, gave a talk, and a letter of appreciation from D. B Frampton of Columbus, company president, was read.

Adams joined the company in Washington, C. H., and came here in 1936 when the local plant was opened.

Hamilton, Lockland Wayne Top Poll by Big Margin

Big Blue Selected Despite Loss; Sycamore Voted 9th

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hamilton's Big Blue, although beaten 68-67 by Columbus South Saturday night, clung to the Class A peak today in the weekly Associated Press poll to determine the state's top high school basketball teams.

A pair of free throws in the last 12 seconds provided the upset and gave Coach Pug Hood, former Hamilton High School and Ohio U. star, his conquest over his alma mater. South, loser of 4 of 15 games, goes against unbeaten and fifth-ranked Columbus North tonight.

Middletown's defending state champions were 74-66 winners over Springfield to retain their second rating, setting the stage for Friday's "big one." Hamilton and Middletown tangle in Cincinnati Gardens, with around 12,000 fans due to watch the scrap between the one-two teams.

Lockland Wayne stuck right at the top in Class B, and Delphos St. John was second, although the latter was a 50-43 victim of New Bremen for its second straight loss.

Three other clubs of last week's top 10 in Class B also fell, Waynesburg dropping its second straight, 63-55 to Dundee, Junction City blasting Glenford 62-57, and Newark St. Francis losing 66-65 to Hebron. In Class A, Fremont Ross, tied for 10th last week, was felled 65-56 by Findlay's Trojans.

Dayton Stivers, Fremont and Chillicothe of last week's top squads dropped from among the elite this time as Canton McKinley, again under the tutelage of astute Herman (Bup) Rearick, moved into eighth place and unbeaten Niles grabbed 10th.

Newark St. Francis skidded out of the select list in Class B, with St. Henry and its 19-3 record getting the 10th position.

A total of 44 radio and newspaper sports editors, the greatest number of the season, participated in the poll.

Wynn Hawkins of New Waterford, out for three games with a crippled ankle, broke his arm last week but wound up with 614 points for 17 games, an average of 36 for a team with a 12-8 record. Dale Middeker sank a 30-footer just as the buzzer sounded to give Salem its 71-70 win over classy Canton South—the second time this year Middeker has turned the trick.

A fan down at Cadmus tore the shirt of the referee, and the game was forfeited to visiting Rio Grande—giving the latter its 10th straight win in the Gallia County League.

Fans and officials were on hand Saturday night at Springfield for the Columbus Holy Rosary-Springfield Catholic game, but the capital city team didn't appear due to a schedule mixup.

Canton McKinley's leap to the top 10 is a strong hint that the Bulldogs are a rejuvenated outfit. Bup Rearick took over again this season after an absence of several years, and there's a chance he'll have his team in the state tourney for the 15th time since 1924. McKinley lost 6 times in the second round, 4 times in the semi-finals and 4 times in the finals—and has never won the title.

Here's how 44 radio and newspaper sports editors rate the teams this week. In parentheses are the first place votes and poll points on a 10-9-8-etc basis, and the won-lost records of the top 10.

Sportsmen in Bid To Rid County of Fox, Wildlife Killer

A group of Marion hunters think in terms of game saved rather than the number of foxes they kill when they go hunting for the animals.

According to Cody Hartman, one of the hunters in the group of eight, a total of 19 foxes have been bagged so far this winter. The group killed 10 in one weekend this year.

Main purpose for the hunts is to rid the county of the wildlife killers, Hartman explained. The group of men, some members of the Marion County Fish and Game Association, hunt regularly anytime snow is on the ground for good tracking conditions

The men hunt within 15 miles of Marion driving around the county and looking for tracks. They killed 63 foxes during the winter three years ago. Seven were bagged between the Scioto River and the edge of Marion.

The hunters, during that year figured they had saved thousands of rabbits and pheasants, killing the foxes which have litters of from five to 10 each year.

Last year, the group also killed nearly 2,000 crows and 200 hawks.

Avila and Al Smith Okay Tribe Offers

CLEVELAND (AP)—Bobby Avila, a stubborn holdout last year, telephoned fror. Mexico City yesterday and came to terms with the Cleveland Indians for the 1954 season.

The south-of-the-border second baseman waited last year until the Tribe had its practice well under way before putting in an appearance.

Salary terms were not made public.

Another Indian to sign yesterday was Al Smith, an outfielder who had a .240 average for 47 games last year.

Elevator Team Players Guests at Dinner Party

Members of the Green Camp Elevator basketball team were guests at a dinner party at the Shangri - La Restaurant Monday. The dinner was given by the sponsor, H. D. Kempton, in honor of the team's recent 63-61 victory over the Cleveland Browns.

Attending the dinner were Allen Augenstein, Ron Craycraft, Nor Withrow, Vern Hensel, Bob Weston, Wayne Weston, Jim Ruth, Berl Hilborn and Kempton. The Elevator crew sports a 16-2 record and is the only undefeated team in the YMCA League.

Bowery Boys Sign In Tag Team Bout

The Bowery Boys will meet Billy Fox and Rip Hawk Thursday night in a tag team match at the armory, Promoter Les Fishbaugh announced today.

The bout will be for two out of three falls. Hawk will be reversing his role of last week when he was referee for the reguar cards.

Aztec Garcia and Jim Lewis will be matched in a return grudge match for two out of three falls. The two have battled it out before at the armory and after last week's bout both men asked for a rematch.

Paul Orth is scheduled to meet Cowboy Curry in the 30-minute opener at 8:30.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Bill Coder, former Marysville High School cage star, is now performing for Bliss College at Columbus, one of the state's busiest and least-heralded cage squads.

SHORT

Last week the ex-Monarch helped the Bookkeepers in a history-making one-night binge in Columbus. The Bliss squad hooked up in a doubleheader against Giffin College of Van Wert and Tiffin College at Tiffin.

In the opening game, the Columbus school raced to an easy 108-71 win and fans were worried the team had hit its peak with nothing left for the nightcap. Coder and his mates wasted little time in putting their minds to rest. They raced into a 22-11 lead in the opening minutes and ended the second game on the long end of a 107-65 count.

During the evening, Coder pumped in 42 points. He ended each game with 10 field goals and a single point from the foul line. Ten Bliss cagers broke into the scoring in the first game and 11 contributed points in the nightcap.

The double victory boosted the business school's win streak to 10 straight and gave the cagers a season mark of 11 wins and 7 losses.

NATE WALLACK, publicity chief for the Indians, has again assured local fans of being able to obtain good seats at Cleveland during the coming season.

Wallack is preparing to leave for Arizona with the Tribe's spring training group but took time out to assure fans of the availability of tickets.

During recent years, Nate says last-minute returns from fans unable to attend allowed ticket purchasers at game time to obtain better seats than the persons who bought their tickets weeks before the game. This year no refunds will be allowed and the advance game ticket sales are expected to hold up.

Wes Santee Eyes Four-Minute Mile After Record Run

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Wes Santee, the self-confident Kansas cowboy, has corralled the second fastest competitive indoor mile in history, but he still isn't satisfied.

He loped around the eight-lap Michigan State College dirt track in 4:04.9 last night as the feature of a triangular meet among Kansas, Illinois and Michigan State.

The cocky Kansas said afterwards he's sure he can go a faster mile on a board track. He expressed confidence that some day he will crack the four-minute barrier.

His time will stand as the world indoor record for a dirt track. Only Glenn Cunningham's sensational 4:04.4 of 1938—on a board track—exceeds Santee's performance in indoor competition.

Dukes Replace Kentuckians as Leading Squad

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—Duquesne's unbeaten Dukes, profiting at the expense of Indiana and the Oklahoma Aggies, ousted the other unbeaten major college team, Kentucky, from the top place in the national basketball rankings today.

After occupying a threatening position for several weeks, the Dukes moved into the lead in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscaster. The margin wa 814 points to 761, on the usual basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second, etc.

Duquesne and Kentucky each polled 24 first-place votes out of 104 ballots, but, just like last week, the Dukes scored heavily on those ballots where they were placed third or lower.

Nothing in the performances of these two teams accounted for the switch in sentiment, but indications were that the backers of Indiana and Oklahoma A&M, swung toward Duquesne after their favorites were beaten The Hoosiers and the Aggies both were beaten for the second time this season during the past week and their point totals fell off.

Indiana retained third place with 650 points, in spite of a loss to low-ranking Northwestern. But the Aggies, beaten by their bitter neighborhood rival Oklahoma, dropped to fifth behind Western Kentucky.

Iowa, which tied Indiana Saturday for the Big Ten conference lead, made a surprise appearance in 10th place, edging out Maryland by a single point. The votes were tabulated before last night, when Ohio State upset Iowa 77-69 while Indiana swamped Purdue 86-50.

The La Salle Explorers, whose 11-game winning streak was ended by Temple, lost their place in the top 10, skidding clear down to 12th while Seattle and George Washington, a pair of onetime losers, improved their ratings.

After the first five came Notre Dame, Seattle, George Washington, Holy Cross and Iowa in that order. George Washington registered the big gain, bouncing from 10th place to eighth.

The leading teams on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first-place votes in parentheses):

1.	Duquesne (24)	814
2.	Kentucky (24)	761
3.	Indiana (7)	650
4	Western Kentucky (5)	650
5.	Oklahoma A&M (5)	468
6.	Notre Dame (2)	308
7.	Seattle (6)	280
8.	George Washington (11)	273
9.	Holy Cross (6)	255
10.	Iowa (1)	205
11.	Maryland (9)	204
13.	Louisiana State	124
14.	Duke (1)	84

Chico Vejar Injured

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Boxer Chico Vejar, now an Army private at nearby Fort Benning, was injured in a forced landing of his private plane yesterday.

Vejar, formerly ranked fifth among the world's welterweight boxers, suffered a fractured lower jaw, loss of six teeth and multiple lacerations. The post hospital reported his condition as good.

Semi-Finals Slated Tonight In County Tourney Action

Two championship games, pitting Morral against Claridon and Prospect against LaRue, highlight tonight's Marion County basketball tournament action at the Coliseum.

In a consolation affair, Caledonia meets Green Camp in the opener at 6:30 p.m. Morral and Claridon are scheduled for 7:45 and Prospect and LaRue for 9.

Semi-finals in the consolation bracket will be held Thursday night. Finals will be Saturday night with three teams going to the district tourney.

The Caledonia - Green Camp loser tonight will be eliminated from further play while the winner will meet the Morral - Claridon loser Thursday at 8:45 p.m. Waldo will play the Prospect - LaRue loser at 7:30.

Winners of the Morral - Claridon and Prospect - LaRue games tonight will tangle Saturday night for the championship. Winners in Thursday night's two games will meet for the consolation crown Saturday.

The championship finalists and the consolation winner advance to district play either at Otterbein College or Capital University.

OSU Surprises Iowans 77-69; Spoils Title Bid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A grinning band of Ohio State University basketball players is planning to continue its newly-assumed role of wrecker.

Obviously enjoying the fact they jolted Iowa out of a first place tie in the Big Ten by defeating the Hawkeyes 77-69, the Buckeyes are looking forward to slowing down a couple of other conference hotshots.

Iowa was enjoying an 8-1 conference mark and a share of the lead with Indiana when it entered the Fairgrounds Coliseum last night. When the Hawkeyes packed their bags they had only the memory of a stinging defeat at the hands of eighth-ranked Ohio State and undisputed possession of second place in the loop, Indiana, meanwhile, was boosting its record to 9-1 with an 86-50 win over Purdue.

Next to risk a healthy record in Columbus will be third place Minnesota, with a 7-3 loop mark. The Gophers, who beat Wisconsin 78-68 last night, are in town Saturday.

Last night Ohio State won its second conference game in a row and its fourth in 11 outings. Playing the same kind of team ball that gave them their 97-77 win over Michigan last week, the Bucks stayed on top most of the way—twice enjoying 13-point leads.

At Fredericktown

Irish Meet Knox County Champion in Road Game

St. Mary's Irish seek to rebound from a 50-47 loss to Delaware Willis when they travel to Fredericktown tonight for a clash with the Knox County quintet.

It will mark the locals' final road game of the regular season. Their final game will be against Marysville here Friday.

Fredericktown will take a 13-5 mark into the fray after winning three straight following a loss to Centerburg. The Irish opponents have clinched the Knox County League title.

In Fredericktown's last three outings, it has been victorious from Loudonville, Mansfield Madison and Mt. Gilead. Other wins have been over Lexington, Hartford, Amity, Howard, Danville twice, Bladensburg, Cardington, and Centerburg.

Its losses were to Grove City, Elm Valley, Chesterville, Centerburg and Belleville.

Common opponents are Elm Valley, Mt. Gilead and Cardington. The locals have beaten all three teams this season but lost an opening season tilt to Mt. Gilead.

Fredericktown will likely go with Bill Frazier, a 5-11 sophomore, and Barth Yost, a 5-10 sophomore, at the forwards; Jim Pindall, a 6-2 senior, at center; and Gary Rine, 5-7 sophomore, and Gerald Sargent, 5-8 junior, at the guards.

Pindall is the big gun for the Fredericktown team, averaging close to 17 points a game. Scoring is evenly distributed among the rest of the squad.

Also likely to see action for Coach Marvin Shaffer's quintet are Dan Hines, a 5-9 junior guard and Bill Braddock, a 6-1 junior forward.

The locals are expected to go with Mike Anderson and Jack O'Keeffe at the forwards; Roger Micheli at center; and Jerry Ballenger and Butch Merchant at the guards.

Anderson continues to hold a commanding edge over the rest of the Irish scorers. He pumped in 25 points against Delaware to run his seasons total to 268. Micheli has dropped in 192 points for the locals while Merchant has 174, John Messenger 75, Ballenger and O'Keeffe 67 apiece and Larry Ryan 45.

St Mary will be seeking its 13th victory of the season. The Delaware win last week lowered the Irish mark to 12-6 and snapped a four - game winning streak. It marked only the second loss in the last 11 outings for the locals.

The pair of games this week will prepare the Irish for their appearance in the exempted village and parochial tourney next week. St. Mary goes against Granville next Wednesday.

Green Camp Hoop Squad Downs Wyandot Indians

Green Camp K of P Lodge notched a 70-67 victory over the Wyandot Indians at the Green Camp school last night. The winners led most of the way, holding quarter advantages of 18-15, 34-33 and 50-44.

Paul Sheppard paced the Green Camp attack with 20 points. He was aided by Gene Marsh and Al Stover, who both hit for 13 points. R. Freshour was high for the losers with 29 points while M Lust added 21. Green Camp will host Marseilles Friday night.

GREEN CAMP 70

BOWERY BOYS IN TAG TEAM MATCH PLUS GARCIA AND LEWIS

HEADLINE BIG ARMORY CARD THURSDAY

"Aztec" Garcia

The big crowd of wrestling fans at the Marion Armory have been seeing plenty of action and next Thursday they are sure of another evening packed with action with the eight men signed.

In one of the two out of three fall matches The Bowery Boys return to battle the combination of Billy Fox and the fighting Exmarine, Rip Hawk who acted as refree last week. The Bowery Boys are two of the roughest to ever wrestle here.

The other 2 out of 3 fall match is between those two arch enemies, "Aztec" Garcia, the Mexican and Jim Lewis, these two have been fighting it out for the past two weeks and after Lewis came to in the dressing room last Thursday he didn't want to take the bout on a disqualification, he asked for another match. Garcia refused saying the referee didn't treat him right but Promoter Les Fishbaugh said he would bring the referee for next Thursday.

The 8:30 match is also all star bringing back the winner of the battle royal, Paul Orth with Cowboy Bob Curry of Alberta, Canada. Markert & Lewis early for the Prices, $1.00-$1.50 Kids 50cts. Call best reservation, (Marion 2-1732).

Major League Pension Fund Wrangle Resumes

BY ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—The long wrangle over the major league pension plan continued today when five men walked into a conference room in hopes of settling some of the differences that have caused animosity between the players and the club owners

Allie Reynolds ace pitcher of the New York Yankees and Ralph Kiner home run hitter of the Chicago Cubs, American and National League player representatives, respectively, along with J. Norman Lewis their lawyer huddled with Cleveland General Manager Hank Greenberg and Pittsburgh owner John Galbreath, the owners committee

The main point which all parties concerned would be settled was just what percentage of the World Series television and radio money will go into the pension fund The players also asked a firmer place in the baseball councils and a voice in the management of the pension plan

The players say that if World Series TV and radio income are higher after the present contract expires, they would like to study the possibility of greater benefits' Greenberg said before entering the conference We differ only in how this can be done. The players would like to have a say on such future contracts and would like a specific share of the money to go into the pension plan"

Lewis said he Reynolds and Kiner had studied the proposals and we see nothing outlandish in them"

The owners have had ample time to study the proposals and we are exceedingly hopeful this meeting will be the most productive one yet Mr Galbreath and Mr Greenberg are reasonable men and I'm confident we ll reach a meeting of the minds with them he said

Troy, Fort Wayne Waging Bitter Fight in Playoff Bid

CINCINNATI (AP)—The big battle for sixth place—the last playoff berth—resumes tonight in the International Hockey League wars

Fort Wayne and Troy have pockeyed each day for the last four in taking the spot The Hoosier Komets are in the position now because they blanked Johnstown 3 0 last night They lead by a meager point a half-game

On the Indiana ice last week Fort Wayne beat the Ohioans 5-3 They do not meet again until the last day of February But the standings could change again tonight as Fort Wayne travels to Grand Rapids and Troy goes to Johnstown.

The top six teams of the nine-club league compete in mid March in the championship playoffs There seems no doubt Cincinnati the defending champion will be at the top of the heap at the end of the regular season

Showing superior scoring skills and effective defensive maneuvers the Cincinnati Mohawks have won nine straight and now lead the league by eight games Their goalie, Charley Hodge was used twice last week by Buffalo in the American Hockey League But he was expected to be back in action tonight when Cincinnati plays Toledo

Except for the Fort Wayne Troy switch there were no changes in the team standings

Shovel, Waldo, GI Post Take Y League Tilts

Marion Power Shovel, Waldo Merchants and GI Post hung up victories in the YMCA Industrial-Independent Basketball League last night as the combined loop moved into the final two weeks of play The big game of the season to determine the possible trophy winners of both leagues will be staged Wednesday when Marion Industries will tangle with Green Camp Elevator A win by the Elevator five will practically assure it of its fourth straight Independent League crown

However the Marion Industries team, loser of its first two games of the season and undefeated since are gunning for the Independent League leaders and the game is expected to be a hard fought battle and a toss up as to the predicted winner A Green Camp loss would give the Marion AC a first place tie and if the teams should then complete the season without a loss a playoff for the Independent league crown would be held

Marion Power Shovel displayed its best shooting of the season as it laced Raymond 77-51 in the first of last night s three games The Shovel jumped to a 17 7 first period lead and continued the torrid work throughout the remainder of the game Dick Bender led the attack for the third week in succession by piling up 29 points while Lundquist added 20 Chuck Kinkaid had 19 to lead Raymond

The Waldo Merchants surprised the Ashley Merchants 46-40 in a cleanly fought game The Ashley five, playing without the services of Dick Howard couldn t find the range until late in the second half after Waldo had worked to a 30 20 lead Jack McGrath with 14 points paced the Ashley team while D Shultz had 14 for Waldo

GI Post slammed Alloy with a 52 40 defeat in the finale in a fracas that blew wide open in the final period after being closely battled during the first three periods GI Post's 19 final period points gave it a 10 point lead with four minutes remaining and dispelled any doubt as to the outcome Joe and Max Roseberry tied for Post scoring honors with 14 each while Johnson and Saxton with 14 and 13 points were for high for Alloy

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market slipped lower today despite some areas of resistance to the fall

The retreat went to around 2 points at the outside while gains seldom got to as much as a point

New York Central, the big star yesterday, staged a delayed opening again with a reverse twist.

Yesterday the floor of the exchange was deluged with buying orders, and it took governors two hours and 20 minutes to scare up enough sellers to make an opening block of 65 000 shares at 26 The stock closed up ⅛ at 25¼

Today there was a delay of around 40 minutes as selling orders hit the floor and governors had a hard time finding buyers until the price was cut back 1¼ at 24 on two blocks of 30 000 and 15 000 shares The stock improved from its low within a short time but sank back again under additional offerings

Among lower stocks were Illinois Central, Union Pacific Pan American World Airways American Telephone American Tobacco, U S Steel, and Radio Corp

$2,600 Bucyrus Action Is Settled Out of Court

BUCYRUS — An out of court settlement has been reached in the $1 655 action for money of Flick Bollerer Lumber Co, against Cecil L and Lois J Denton of near Bucyrus and the First Federal Savings and Loan Co, Galion court officials announced here today

The case filed in Crawford County Common Pleas Court here in August 1952 was heard part of last week before Judge John C Carroll

The Galion firm asked $1 655 and foreclosure on the Denton home It charged that the Dentons had engaged Charles and Harry Ketterman of near Galion to build their home and that the Kettermans later went bankrupt and had not paid for their building materials The plaintiff's petition also stated that the defendants obtained a loan from the saving and loan firm to pay the Kettermans for their labor.

Astronomers Seek Escape From Smog

WASHINGTON (UP) — Today's astronomers not only look through telescopes. The also look for better places to put them—away from the industrial haze and smog of the cities.

Many of the world's largest telescopes have been moved to new sites and more moves are contemplated, the National Geographic Society reports.

Recently England's Royal Observatory has been busy moving from its Greenwich-on-Thames location to a 15th century castle in Sussex, 60 miles southeast of London. Urban smoke and haze are the cause. Besides making it more difficult for telescopes to pierce the atmosphere, layers of 'smoke reflect the glare from street and neon lights.

The U. S. Naval Observatory here hopes to take its 40-inch, nine-ton reflector to Flagstaff, Ariz., where viewing conditions are 16 to 20 times more favorable than in Washington. If Congress appropriates the $225,000 needed for the job, the move can be accomplished in from nine to 18 months.

Newer telescopes are located away from cities as a matter of course. The 200 - inch Hale telescope—the world's largest—sits in isolation atop 6,138-foot Palomar Mountain, 92 miles from Pasadena.

Other observatories planning to move or already in new locations are those of the Universitites of Pennsylvania and Tennessee as well as one maintained jointly by Yale and Columbia Universities. The joint observatory was shifted from Johannesburg, South Africa, to Mount Stromlo near Canberra, Australia.

Jury Panelists Agree— Approval Given Kissing

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (UP)—A Superior Court jury of 10 men and two women has agreed that kissing a girl does not constitute an indecent liberty.

The jury deliberated for 90 minutes before declaring Sherd Baker innocent of taking indecent liberties when he kissed a 15-year-old baby-sitter.

Throughout the case, attorneys struggled to explain the technical difference between "indecent" and "improper." The defense attorney said Baker did not deny kissing the girl, but said the issue was a question of impropriety rather than indecency.

Other Major Matters Delayed

Senate Tangle on Treaty Issue Holds Up Program

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate started 1954 fast. Then it bogged down on the idea of amending the Constitution. Now it's playing by ear.

Right after returning in January it gave quick approval for this country's joining Canada in developing the St. Lawrence seaway.

That was a step it hadn't been willing to take in the past 20 years. This time it was spurred on by President Eisenhower, who backed the seaway, plus notice from Canada she would act alone if Congress balked.

Then the Republican Senate leader, Sen. Knowland of California, trotted out something which Eisenhower didn't approve.

Would Limit Scope

That was the proposal by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to amend the Constitution so as to limit the scope of treaties negotiated by the President and ratified by the Senate, and to provide for congressional regulation of executive agreements not submitted to the Senate.

Until Eisenhower took a stand against it, saying it would hamstring a president in foreign affairs, it seemed the Senate might approve.

Bricker had a lot of support until then. Then his supporters began to melt away. That didn't stop days of debate though.

That was to be expected: Bricker's amendment involved Supreme Court decisions, treaties, agreements, and acts of Congress going far back in history. It was a lawyer's field day.

Had No Chance

Soon it became clear the Bricker amendment had no chance as it stood. Still, there was and apparently still is quite a bit of Senate sentiment for some kind of constitutional restriction on treaties and agreements.

Those who urge it argue like this: states and individuals need to be protected against action by some future president infringing on their laws or liberties.

Just as it seemed the whole idea of an amendment might go out the window, Sen. George (D - Ga) came up with one of his own.

This was a modified version of the one Bricker offered. The White House didn't accept that one either.

But there was a slight difference between the way Bricker offered his amendment and the way George produced his.

For two years the Senate Judiciary Committee considered Bricker's proposal, held hearings, heard witnesses, took its time.

Then it sent to the full Senate for debate a proposed amendment which was not quite what Bricker offered but still bore his name.

No Hearings Held

The proposal by George, although he may have consulted many of the same staff experts and lawyers who advised the Judiciary Committee, was not the subject of any hearings or committee study. It has been considered only on the floor and in conferences with administration officials.

Now Bricker is saying he and George may get together and agree on language in an amendment both could back.

This attempt to write out a constitutional amendment without more hearings and discussion has been criticized by some senators as a too-hasty attempt to make a change in handling foreign affairs, since the language some day might be given an interpretation not intended now.

Yesterday some constitutional lawyers—like John W. Davis—were quoted as saying they didn't know what the language in George's amendment meant.

In spite of all the present talk there can be no change in the Constitution unless it is approved by two thirds of the Senate and House, present at voting time, and 36 of the 48 state legislatures.

Mystery Fire Claims 4 In New Mexico Family

HOBBS, N. M. (AP) — The four children of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Mitchell died yesterday in a mysterious flash fire while alone in the house.

Their 17-year-old uncle, Raymond Mitchell, said he had been baby-sitting with the youngsters and had left the house for about 10 minutes.

Dead were Johnny Lee Mitchell, 3, Ossie Lee, 2, Olivia, 16 months, and Raymond, 3 months.

Their bodies were found in the center room of the three-room home.

Firemen were unable to determine the cause of the fire. The uncle said no fires were burning in any stoves or heaters when he left.

Both parents of the dead children work.

JOHN NEGERT

Chicago Boy, 3, Rescued From Ledge on Building

CHICAGO (AP)—A 3-year-old boy walked casually along the eight-inch second story ledge of a business-apartment building on busy West Madison street yesterday until two men pulled him to safety.

The youngster, Henry White, crawled out on the ledge while his grandmother, Mrs. Mae White, was busy in another room. He was rescued by Stewart Green, 21, a salesman, and Walter Clark, 32, a porter.

Green and Clark had to smash a window screen to reach the boy, who had strolled along the narrow ledge out of reach of the open window through which he had crawled.

Colleges Fail To Fill Demand

Crop of Trained Youth Is Short, Businessmen Find

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Technically trained college graduates can ignore the current big debate between the "prophets of gloom and doom" and the apostles of "it's going to turn out all right in time."

Corporation scouts, college placement offices predict today, will soon be haunting campuses recruiting the grads for industry. The big debate hasn't changed industry's need of engineering skill. It finds the crop of trained youth still in short supply.

However liberal art grads may fare, the American Chemical Society predicts engineering companies will get only two-thirds as many graduates as they need this year.

The atomic age will only increase the need for engineers, according to the Engineers Joint Council, which represents 170,000 members of eight engineering societies worried about the student shortage.

The government already drains the supply to get men to handle such things as guided missiles, jet planes and foreign economic aid and development. The council adds: "Atomic power and the utilization of solar energy loom on the horizons."

The Scientific Manpower Commission is uniting with the council in a drive for more and better science teachers in high schools to induce youth to enter engineering courses.

And retired Gen. Leslie R. Goves, who headed the Manhattan atomic bomb project during the war, contends a principal reason for the current lack of students studying to be engineers is that too many high school students aren't taught the fundamentals of arithmetic.

The reasons usually given for the shortage: The big increase in demand for technicians in the booming postwar world; the small crop of depression babies, now at college age; and the Korean War and draft which claimed students as they came from high school.

This year there will be 1,300 fewer graduates in chemistry than last spring the American Chemical Society notes sadly.

After a survey of college campuses and of industrial companies, it reports the need for chemists, engineers and physicists is nine per cent higher than a year ago. Talk of recession hasn't changed that picture, it holds.

But it does find the increase in the demand for scientific graduates is levelling off. Last year's demand for grads was put at 25 per cent higher than in 1952.

Weapons Policy Studied

Congressmen Seek Data On 'New Look' in Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith go behind closed doors of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for what may turn into a searching review of America's defense-foreign policy.

Senate Minority Leader Johnson of Texas says legislators need to know more about the administration's "new look" military program—the plan to rely more on air power and new weapons and less on large standing ground forces.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) says the imminent breakdown of the Big Four conference in Berlin points toward a need for U. S. ground troops to stay in Europe indefinitely. He asks: "How will the atomic bomb solve that problem?"

TREATY POWERS—Words turn into votes as the Senate enters the showdown stage in a confused battle over plans to change the Constitution's treatment of treaties and international agreements. Despite a 62-20 tally favoring one provision, there are still no clear indications of how a majority would line up on more-disputed sections to come up later.

WARREN — Opponents of the nomination of Earl Warren to be Supreme Court chief justice get until Wednesday midnight to file their protests with a Senate Judiciary subcommittee. Chairman Langer (R-ND) orders a staff study of the complaints, which he says number more than 100. No senator has announced he will vote against Warren.

BEESON — Senate Democratic chieftains consider making a party issue over the nomination of Albert C. Beeson to the National Labor Relations Board. A minority report by Democratic members of the Labor Committee, who voted solidly against Beeson, is expected to hit hard on several apparent contradictions in his testimony.

Convalescent Home Patient Wanted 'Drink'

DALLAS (AP) — The convalescent home patient asked an attendant for a drink here yesterday.

The attendant brought a pitcher of water and poured a long drink.

The 69-year-old man sprayed his first mouthful across the room.

"Gad!" he yelled. "That stuff is water!"

In a bull's-eye throw, he hit the attendant across the face with the water pitcher.

Parkland Hospital aides said the attendant is recovering from a broken nose.

The home inmate, they said, is about the same.

BOY SENTENCED

CLEVELAND (AP) — Judge Harry L. Eastman sentenced a 15-year-old boy to an indefinite term in Lancaster Boys Industrial Home yesterday after a woman teacher testified the junior high school pupil hit her twice—once when she ordered him out of a class room and the second time when they returned from the assistant principal's office.

Movie-Like Chase Ends With 'Cowboy' Footing Galion Bill

GALION — A "cowboy" driver in Galion Sunday took city police on a movie-like chase, with the "cowboy" paying for the show.

Police said that Donald L. Rodman, 20, of near Cardington, drove at a high speed east on Harding Way East, darted through the flasher light at the railroad crossing, and later drove at a slow rate of speed on his way back over Harding Way. This bottled up traffic behind him.

This was not enough, he raced out N. Columbus St. violating two stop signs, and then headed north out of the city at 70 miles an hour, police said. Crestline police were notified and set up a roadblock, which Rodman eluded. The chase started shortly after 1 a.m. with police on the trail for nearly an hour. Rodman blazed a trail down alleys, and through intersections. It was not until 5 p.m. that his car was spotted in Galion by a patrolman.

Rodman, appearing before Mayor Francis C. Schalip Monday morning, paid a total of $60.40, representing fines and costs, on two charges; reckless driving and failure to comply with a police officer's signal. A 10-day sentence was suspended.

Retired School Teacher Leaves $631,000 Estate

CHICAGO (AP)—A retired schoolteacher who invested savings from her teaching salary amassed an estimated $631,000, according to an inheritance tax return filed in Cook County Court.

The tax return was for the estate of Miss Grace E. Jackson, 85, who died Jan. 27, 1953. She retired 21 years ago from her position as a Latin teacher at a Chicago high school.

Court attaches said that as far as was known her only major source of income was her teaching.

The submarine has been generally recognized as a legitimate instrument of naval warfare since the Civil War. Previously they were regarded as something akin to piracy.

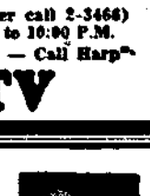
About the "take it or leave it" attitude of waiters



It happens every day somewhere. A waiter may have lost on the last race or he may have gotten out on the wrong side of his bed. He comes to work sour on life. If something goes wrong he takes the "take it or leave it" attitude. This simply can't happen at the Ritz. Here every waiter trys to please and satisfy every wish.

Attempt To Derail NYC Streamliner Revealed at Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A large steel plate deliberately placed on the tracks almost derailed the New York Central's crack Mercury passenger train here last week.

News of the incident on Feb. 8 was withheld until yesterday while the FBI and other police authorities made an investigation.

The train's diesel engine, hauling 11 cars on the Detroit-Cleveland runs, "rocked and wobbled" after hitting the 37-pound plate on a viaduct.

Fireman Alfred J. Stucker said crewmen feared for a moment the train would leave the rails and plunge down on heavily-traveled Berdan avenue.

The train was stopped, but because of darkness, the plate was not found until the next day. Police said it obviously had been placed on the tracks in an effort to wreck the train with its 240 passengers.

Bricks and cobblestones found on the tracks a short distance from the three-foot-long plate led police to believe juveniles might have been responsible for the derailment attempt.

56 lbs. LOST PRAISE RENNEL

"I have lost 56 lbs. since I started using Rennel Concentrate," writes Mrs. Peggy Gainer, 427 N. 6th St., Steubenville, Ohio. "When I started taking Rennel I weighed 176 lbs. Today I weigh 120 lbs. I have recommended Rennel to many of my friends who comment on the weight I have lost, and how much better I look. I am proud to recommend Rennel after what it has done for me."

CLEVELAND (AP)—A fire razed the Dornbeck Furnace & Foundry Co. plant last night, causing damage estimated by President William H. Dornbeck Jr. at $200,000.

Marionite Visits Hawaii

RALPH T. LEWIS, a Marion Rotarian who presently is vacationing in Hawaii, recently was officially welcomed and presented the traditional Hawaiian lei of friendship at the Honolulu Rotary Club weekly luncheon meeting. Mr. Lewis was greeted and presented the lei by Duke Kahanamoku, Honolulu Rotarian.

Mr. Lewis is one of 450 Rotarians from 46 states and 12 foreign countries who have been entertained in recent months by the Honolulu Club. At the Honolulu Club meeting, he met well-known Island businessmen of the city of a quarter million people.

Last week, according to word received from Mr. Lewis by local Rotary Club officials, he flew from Honolulu to Lihue, Kauai, Hawaii, where he visited pineapple canneries. During the afternoon there, he played 18 holes of golf with two cannery officials and the secretary of the Rotary Club.

Mr. Lewis left here Jan. 13 and plans to be in Hawaii until Feb. 24.

Proceeds of Dance To Benefit Schools

Proceeds from a dance to be held Friday night at Silver Street School will be used for the purchase of equipment for the special classes at Silver Street and Mark Street Schools.

Both round and square dancing will be featured at the dance, which is being sponsored by the Special Class Parents Club. Music for the dance is being donated by Marion Brammer and his Swingtet.

Starting at 8 p.m. a program will be presented by Mac's Melodeers, a group of students of Richard McCleod. Dancing will begin at 9 p.m.

Mrs. Harold Darnell, president of the club, is in charge of arrangements for the benefit dance. Tickets are available from members now and will be available at the door that evening.

DOCTOR WOUNDED

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Coroner Austin Richards says Paul F. Stupp, 55, killed himself after shooting Dr. Morris B. Martin, a family physician, at the home of Stupp's divorced wife last night. Dr. Martin, wounded five times, was reported in good condition at a Springfield hospital. Richards said Stupp intended killing his former wife, Mrs. E. Elsie Stupp, but the woman fled.

3 Bucyrians Admit Thefts, Are Fined

BUCYRUS—Three Bucyrus men have pleaded guilty to the theft of materials and equipment from two Bucyrus manufacturing plants.

James Thacker, 19, was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in Crawford County jail here after admitting the theft of chains, goggles, paint and other items from the Shunk Manufacturing Co. After he was sentenced, Thacker told police that he had bought some rubber hose from Seybert Bloomfield, 19, formerly of Twin Branch, Ky.

Police then picked up Bloomfield who told them he bought the hose from P. Donald Knappenburger, 24, of Bucyrus, who also was arrested. Police said the hose, valued at $35, was stolen from the Swan Rubber Co. The firm then filed petit larceny charges against the men and each was given 90-day jail sentences, suspended on the condition that they pay for the hose and court costs of $11.

Firemen Save Two Florida Boys Mired In Pool of Asphalt

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Two boys got stuck in a waste asphalt pit and narrowly escaped sinking to their deaths last night.

It took firemen 22 minutes to free Allen Perry, 14, and Roger Giarraputo, 9. The boys had been stuck 15 to 20 minutes before frantic calls were heard. Passers-by held the boys up until firemen arrived but could not get them loose.

The boys were playing in the yard of a road construction company when they spied the cold asphalt. They thought they could walk on it, but began to sink when they were about in the middle of the pit, roughly eight feet in diamater.

Firemen said the boys were in about 2½ feet when they arrived. They were reported in good condition after the rescue.

Couple Didn't Complain At Going Before Justice

CALEDONIA, N. Y. (AP)—Police Chief James McCarthy stopped motorist Anthony Virgo, 28, of Niagra Falls, and said he'd have to go before a peace justice on a charge of passing a school bus.

"Fine," said Virgo, nodding toward his companion, Miss Marjorie Ann MacLeod, 21, of St. Catherines, Ont. "We want to get married."

McCarthy took the couple to the peace justice, witnessed the wedding, and then withdrew the traffic charge. Yesterday he received a "thank you" note from the honeymooning couple.

Richwood Man Seeks $10,000 in Court Suit

BUCYRUS — Damon Ledley of Richwood, has filed a $10,000 action for money in Crawford County Common Pleas Court here for injuries allegedly suffered in an auto collision near Galion on Feb 6, 1952.

Defendant in the action is M. E. Christman of Galion, as administrator of the estate of William S. Christman, driver of the other vehicle in the accident and now deceased.

The accident occurred one mile west of Galion on County Highway 19 on a bridge spanning the Olentangy River. Ledley claims that Christman turned into the path of his car. He alleges that his injuries included cerebral concussion, a fractured breast bone, spinal bruises and that the injuries will be permanent. Damages to the Ledley car amounted to $975, the petition states.

FREE TRIAL BOTTLE OF HX ANTISEPTIC
To Help Rid Your Home of Unseen Germs and Protect Your Family From Sickness This Winter!
You may have a trial bottle of famous HX ANTISEPTIC at your drugstore absolutely free of charge to help rid your home of unseen germs and protect your family from sickness.
At the height of World War II, London was going through the worst bombing raids in history. Water mains were broken, and an epidemic could have broken out and wiped the population of London right off the map if it hadn't been for the "round the clock" work of British scientists.
They found a germicide (germ-killer) which was non-injurious, non-poisonous, non-staining and yet so powerful that it killed all bacteria brought on by the bombed out conditions of London. The British Army later adopted HX ANTISEPTIC as its official germicide when the war was over.
. . . . . Today, we want to help you rid your home of unseen germs that may bring on sickness this winter. We want to help you do this by offering a FREE TRIAL BOTTLE of famous HX ANTISEPTIC. Just go to your drug store and ask for your free bottle of HX ANTISEPTIC. Then wash your floors with it, walls, bathrooms, basements, garbage pails, etc.
You will rejoice at HX ANTISEPTIC's clean, fresh odor. And, you will thank goodness that you have helped to kill unseen germs in your home and thereby aided in preventing costly illness in your household this winter. Don't wait! Get HX ANTISEPTIC at your druggist today. It's FREE! But this offer lasts for two weeks only. So get HX ANTISEPTIC at your drug store today FREE OF CHARGE and help rid your home of unseen germs which may bring on costly illness in your family.

Rolling War

The tendency to hook up the war in Indochina with the war in Korea is getting to be so common it was no surprise a few days ago when retired Admiral Ellis Zacharias publicly proposed that the U.N. should intervene.

This does not seem to be out of step with South Korea's proposal to send troops to Indochina and to call in Gen. James A. Van Fleet to organize the military defenses of both countries.

It does not seem to be out of line with moves to send supplies and manpower from the United States to help the French defense of Indochina. But there is something out of line somewhere.

Indochina is not part of a rolling war in Asia.

France, itself, has regarded the Indochinese war as civil—a complication of its unsuccessful efforts to liquidate the problems of Asiatic empire without losing its identity as an Asiatic power. The fighting has gone on since December 1946. The Frenchmen, loyal natives, Africans and Foreign Legionnaires killed—some 55,000 altogether—have been killed by the Viet Minh the local enemy.

It has not been a war of invasion. It has not been a war threatening the sovereignty of an established government whose independence had been guaranted by the United Nations.

What is happening in Indochina is a threat to peace. It cannot be doubted that the Viet Minh is being backed by something more substantial than the zeal of its homegrown members. There is good reason to believe the Red Chinese are sending in supplies in large quantities.

But before the United Nations starts any more wars it is not prepared to fight, much less to finish, its members should think of the 30,000 Americans who will never come home from Korea and the 55,000 men who already have fallen in Indochina.

Asiatic land wars against enemies who can live off the land and never can be destroyed have no appeal after what happened in Korea.

Slippery Deal

It is curious that in all plans being suggested for getting rid of mountains of butter piled up under a federal subsidy which paid for millions of pounds of over-production by the butter industry, nothing is being said about the substance that replaced butter.

Instead, the discussion of what is likely to be done with the surplus butter assumes it is going to be disposed of in a commodity vacuum. The fact is the place where the butter is supposed to be sold already is occupied by margarine, the vegetable-oil product whose use during World War II and attractive price after the war helped to pile up mountains of surplus butter by educating consumers to use a substitute.

Anything which would cut down that butter mountain at the expense of margarine producers would be robbing Peter to pay Paul. There is, in fact, a government-support policy for cottonseed oil, one of the ingredients of margarine.

In effect, a high-parity ratio for butter has been a subsidy not only for that commodity but for low-priced margarine, whose production has been growing by leaps and bounds as millions of consumers substituted it for high-priced butter. If anything drastic were to happen to margarine as the result of a government manipulation to get rid of surplus butter, the Department of Agriculture would be trading one problem for another.

'Cactus Jack'

Cares of the world getting heavy on your shoulders?

Fed up with political bickering and the imperfections of mankind?

In Uvalde, Texas, John Nance Garner, who was vice president of the United States until he was euchred out of the nomination in 1940 in favor of Henry Wallace, is living happily at the age of 85.

He never talks politics. He bears his burden of years in good cheer. He second-guesses nobody. His pleasure is to be agreeable to people who come to see him. His retirement from public affairs was so complete he never has been away from home for more than a few hours since he returned to Uvalde in 1941.

He bears no ill will. His friends love him for his wit and philosophy. He has taught them how to live a serene life by his own example. He thinks the best speech he ever made when he was in public life was one of reassurance about the country's financial soundness.

Once during the years when New Dealers were whooping up reform and revolution he suggested to Franklin D. Roosevelt that he "let the cattle fatten up a bit instead of running them to death." That was one of the reasons the New Dealers preferred Wallace in 1940.

Next time your nerves are rubbed raw by aggravation, think of "Cactus Jack" Garner chuckling philosophically in Uvalde. He will be good for what ails you.

Bricker Amendment Designed To Protect Liberty

Many people are writing in to ask what the Bricker amendment controversy is all about. It seems they can't find out from a reading of the conflicting views and comments contained in the press dispatches because the whole thing appears to them to be a legalistic controversy and they want to know what's back of it all.

Certainly it is confusing to find, for instance, so eminent an organization as the American Bar Association after several years of study advocating a change in the Constitution and yet to hear from individual lawyers of prominence that somebody has started a conspiracy to hamper President Eisenhower in his conduct of foreign policy.

It is, of course, a controversy over the meaning of treaties and whether by merely signing an agreement with a foreign government a president can commit the citizens of the United States to a course of action that normally would require both houses of Congress to bring about only by the passage of a law.

Back of the Bricker amendment controversy is something deeper.

SENATOR GEORGE who has held the important posts of chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and who is widely regarded as an able constitutional lawyer stated the issue in its simplest form to the United States Senate the other day.

He said that he did not want "any president to make an agreement with Turkey that will preclude me from killing a cat in my back alley at night." Then he shouted:

"Neither do I want him to negotiate an agreement with India that will preclude me from butchering a cow in my own barnyard."

These are blunt words but they certainly should dispose of the smear argument spread throughout this country and repeated by so respectable a newspaper as the London Times that the controversy over the Bricker amendment is just a piece of Republican isolationism and that it is merely a fight between Eisenhower and some "reactionary" elements in the Republican party.

It takes a two-thirds majority to get a constitutional amendment adopted by the Senate and anybody who reports the news from the national capital objectively would know that the 64 senators who showed their intention several months ago to support a change along the lines of the Bricker amendment or a substitute wouldn't be doing so if it was just a partisan Republican affair.

Nor is it accurate to spread the fiction that this is just a fight between President Eisenhower and his party or that it somehow concerns only Eisenhower's conduct of foreign policy. For the truth is the abuse of the treaty power has been going on for many years and if not remedied will go on long after Eisenhower ceases to be president.

PERHAPS the clearest explanation of why the Bricker amendment has gotten so much momentum at the "grass roots" in both parties in the last four years was given to the Senate recently by Sen. Bricker himself. He said:

"Most of the opponents of this resolution seek to elevate treaty law above domestic constitutional law. They seek to codify all fundamental human rights — civil, political, economic, social, and cultural — in a law superior to that of sovereign nations. . .

"Most of the opposition to this treaty control amendment comes from those who yearn for the domination of a supra-national government. Some of them would surrender national sovereignty immediately; others would destroy it gradually by means of United Nations treaties and by less formal agreements. Some would organize a supra-state on a global scale while others would first establish a regional government."

The cry against a "world government" to be established through an all-powerful international body in which the United States can be outvoted and its Constitution sabotaged has been raised throughout the country by various local organizations.

The opponents disavow any such purpose and vigorously denounce any such objective but the fact is that the Supreme Court has ruled in one case that treaties can upset domestic law and the effort now is to close that loophole.

THERE ARE some who call themselves "liberals" who say the Constitution is good enough as it is and shouldn't be changed. It's been changed 23 times against the advice of the so-called "reactionaries" who always want to let things alone.

It is significant that Sen. George has come forward with a substitute for the Bricker amendment, and it doesn't differ too much from the Bricker proposal.

If the Georgia senator in his amendment specified that treaties as well as executive agreements were not to be given the status of internal law unless sanctioned by action of Congress, the Ohio Republican and the Georgia Democrat would be rather close together.

The basic object is to prevent a future president from agreeing to some action by one of the numerous subsidiary bodies of the United Nations which would take away constitutional rights.

The average person looking on wonders what harm can come from saying in the Constitution itself that this cannot be done, even if there is little likelihood that Eisenhower would ever allow his envoys ot sign such an agreement.

Annual Report

By TRUMAN TWILL

Throughout my fourth consecutive year of basketball spectatorship, now ending, I have continued to brood about the atrocious crime committed against this fine game by the rules makers.

I have made no wisecracks this year about "whistleball." I have made no observations in private or public about the probable ancestry of the over-conspicuous whistle-tooters.

Even when confronted with the spectacle of a whole game's outcome being determined in a final second by a toot on a whistle because an official felt he had one more toot coming, I have restrained my impulse to call in the FBI and ask for a ferreting - out of Communists or something.

That would be silly. There's really no conspiracy to destroy basketball. The game is still young. These are its formative years. What's driving some of us nuts is the trial - and - error pattern of its growth or, what's worse, the errors of a handful of college coaches who make the rules.

While sweating out some of the gross injustices they have caused to be committed against players and teams by hard - pressed officials who would have to be triplets with eyes in the backs of their heads and more whistles than a parlor organ to handle everything the rules call for them to watch, I have figured it out.

Ultimately, basketball will become as rational in its rules as baseball, an older game which has had the benefit of generations of mature, professional thought. In baseball, despite all its rules, nothing which directly affects the outcome of the game is left to the discretion of officials.

There is no silly business about giving a game to one team or another because of some alleged "foul" which might just as easily have been missed as detected —as many so-called "fouls" are missed.

On the one play in baseball which is a "foul" in every sense of the word — the throwing of a ball at a batter's head to intimidate him — baseball rule - makers merely say this is a bad thing to do and should not be done. But if it is done, the batter doesn't get a chance for a free swing.

Baseball umpires could ruin the game in a few seasons if they became officious and conspicuous. So no one would let them do it. That isn't the idea of baseball.

The idea of baseball is to help the players and the spectators who have come to see them play have an enjoyable experience. The umpire who got whistle - happy would be parted from his whistle permanently, because in baseball the rules are made for baseball, not for college coaches who want to be sure nothing will slow down the scoring sprees of their timber-topping freaks.

So the only thing to do is to be philosophical and hang on until the nonsense leaks out of basketball. The whistle - tooters aren't personally to blame for making themselves more conspicuous than the players and deciding the outcome of close games.

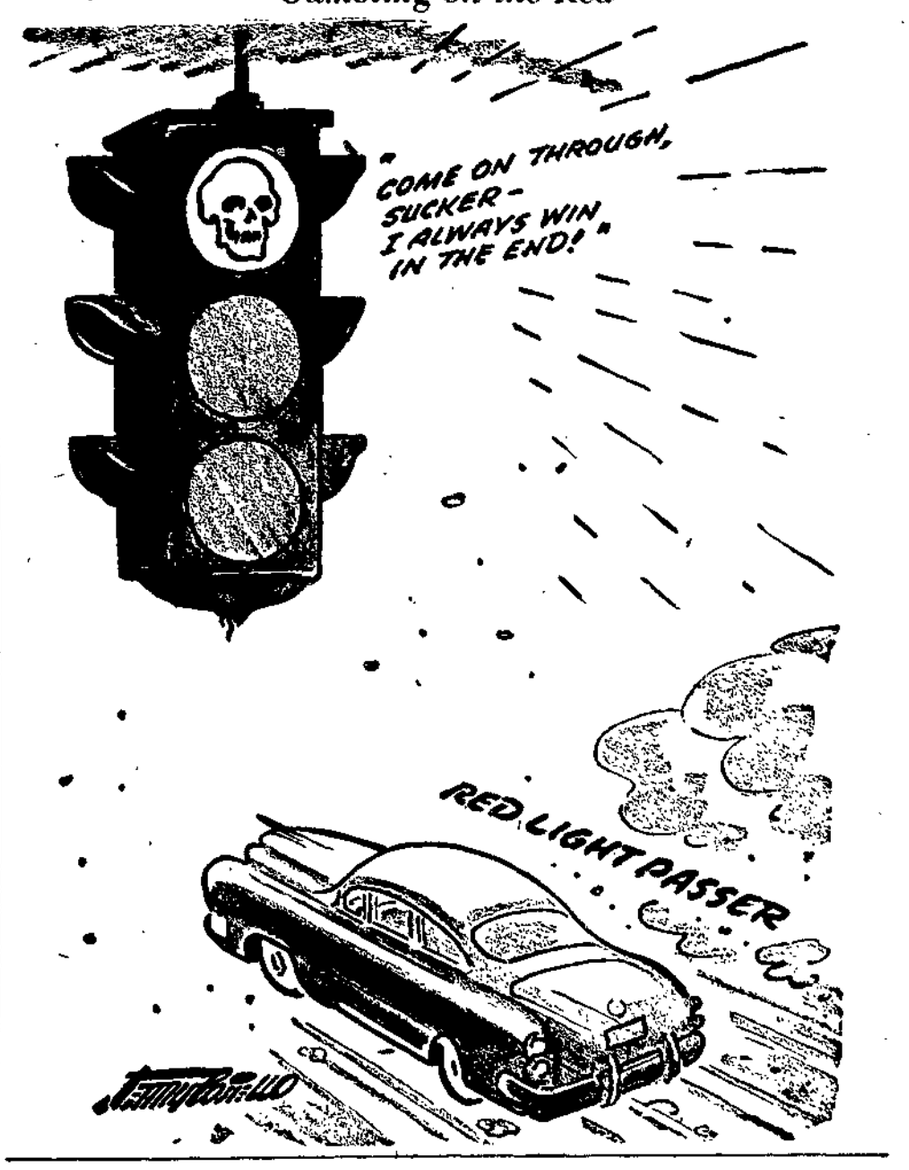
When, two thirds of the way through the last game of the regular season of my fourth consecutive year of my spectatorship I weakened and screamed, "Lay off that whistle, you goon!" I wasn't really sore. My patience was exhausted. It was the 9,374th toot. It was 9,000 toots too many.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

H. T. Van Fleet was a colorful figure of the period during and following the Civil War. A native of Big Island Township where he was born March 9, 1837, he was admitted to the bar in 1860. Except for a short period of service in the Union Army he practiced his profession continuously and successfully until his death Nov. 26, 1891. He served as solicitor and prosecuting attorney of the county. In law he usually addressed his remarks to the jury. He had the reputation of winning many cases, considered by those who listened only to the evidence. His fine knowledge of human nature, coupled with his versatile and ready speech usually carried the day with a jury.

Gambling on the Red



U.S. Watch Industry in Losing Battle

By Raymond Moley

The American Watch Manufacturers Association consisting of Elgin National, Hamilton, and Waltham, have presented their case for additional protection from the flood of Swiss competition.

The loss they have sustained in the American market has been very serious indeed. In 1930, Swiss imports of watch movements had 65 per cent of the American market. Now they have 86 per cent. Meanwhile, employment has been falling rapidly in the American industry.

The greatest loss was during the second World War, when the American government required the American makers to turn to war work. Meanwhile, the thrifty Swiss moved ever more vigorously into the gap thus created.

If this continues, the American industry, as far as movements are concerned, will be gone with the cigar-store Indian, the horse car, and the hoop skirt.

THIS IS NOT all. The loss of the American market to the American industry has been a continuing one, keeping pace with two major developments over the past two decades.

The first of these has been steady tariff reductions under the guidance of an internationally minded State Department. The other has been the vast upsurge of the labor movement.

With these handicaps at home, it is impossible for Americans to compete with the government sponsorship and cheaper labor that characterizes Swiss competition.

Those who favor free trade have a habit of advising the American watchmakers to go into some other business.

Characteristic of this is the minority statement of David J. McDonald of the United Steel Workers in the recently released Randall report. He suggests that industries injured by lowering of tariffs be brought under the downy wing of government paternalism.

He suggested an "Adjustment Assistance Program." Workers thrown out of jobs in which they have devoted their lives to the acquisition of fine skills would receive a "counseling and placement" program.

THEY WOULD, while finding new employment, get "special training allowances." Those too old to be retrained and rehabilitated would be retired with government insurance.

The amazing thing about this paternalistic chatter is that it comes from a labor leader. There were American labor leaders in earlier days who would have disdained such welfare-state arrangements.

Seemingly the CIO has gone the socialist way of British labor.

Aside from the argument on the basis of the freedom of Americans to follow their own inclinations as to what they shall make and sell and what professions and trades they shall choose to enter, there is the security case.

During the second World War, when the Swiss remained neutral, Hamilton could not sell a watch. While the Swiss made further inroads into the American watch market, Hamilton turned out timing devices for weapons, watches, chronometers, and navigational timepieces for the military.

IN ANY future war, it would be essential to have such an industry within our borders. Testimony of the military establishment has made this all too clear.

The watch and clock industries of the British were destroyed before World War II, since the Germans deliberately put into effect procedures that ruined them.

Fred Lux, of the Lux Clock Manufacturing Company, has pointed out: "If it were not for the tariff protection which permitted the American clock industry to remain strong, there would have been no source in the world for Great Britain initially and our own armed forces ultimately, from which to procure the vitally necessary timing devices required."

In 1952, although the Tariff Commission recommended greater protection for the American producers of watches, Harry Truman saw fit to ignore it.

In the interest of national security the present Tariff Commission should arrive at much the same conclusions as its predecessor. This time, an administration may act with greater wisdom.

Time Error

By THOMAS R. HENRY

It now is possible to determine time to an accuracy of a 20-billionth of a second by observations of sun and moon.

This is the conclusion of Dr. Dirk Brouwer, director of the Yale Observatory who has worked in close cooperation with the U.S. Naval Observatory, the nation's official timekeeper.

It is the culmination, Dr. Brouwer says, of the efforts of mathematicians for more than two centuries to prepare precise tables of the moon's motion, the work of the late Dr. Ernest W. Brown of Yale, and the calculations made possible by new mathematical machines.

The 20 - billionth of a second probably error, however, still worries astronomers since, until it can be eliminated, there is no way of ever telling precisely what time it is — or, worse, what time it will be when a certain predicted event happens 1,000 years hence.

Efforts to measure time precisely by the rotation of the earth long have been frustrated by variations in the length of the day, which was about four - hundredths of a second shorter in the 1870's and longer by about the same amount between 1902 and 1912, Dr. Brouwer says.

Geophysicists now attribute this variation to turbulent motions in the earth's liquid core. This turbulence produced a change in the period of the earth's rotation. While the earth as a whole maintains a constant rate sometimes the core turns faster than the planet as a whole and the crust motion varies accordingly. An observer in outer space would not see any difference but an astronomer on the earth's surface cannot get away from it.

There can be considerable correction of the error, however, by observation of the moon's motion around the earth which have been the subject of the intense mathematical research.

Physicists at the U.S. Bureau of Standards are working on atomic clocks, in which time is measured by the rate of vibration of atoms in gas molecules. Theoretically this might make it possible to measure time with an accuracy close to a hundred-billionth of a second.

It is not likely, Dr. Brouwer says, that the atomic clocks will be sufficiently practical to compete with the performance of celestial timekeepers.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

America Softens Up

We've come upon strange times in American politics when one party meets a little roughage from another party with cries of "Watch your manners!" "I demand an apology," and "You can't do this to me!"

What's come over a Democrat when he pulls a book of etiquette in the face of any Republican attack, hot, cold or medium?

All through the history of the republic, Republicans have been blasting Democrats and vice versa, with the rabbit punch, low blow, brass knuckle and use of plaster of Paris in taping the fists considered okay under the fair practices act.

For generations, unless a Democrat let a Republican have it between the eyes on sight and a Republican showed any hesitancy in jumping on a Democrat feet first, neither was regarded as an authentic specimen.

This is the first time in our life that we ever thought any Democrat anywhere, under any sort of abuse from a Republican, would cry "Why can't you be nice to me?" and demand an apology without losing his membership card. We come of a family of Democrats. There were no Republicans in it. Or, if so, they didn't admit it openly. Our boyhood memory is replete with recollections of political fist fights.

When we were a kid of 12 we painted portraits of the two Democratic presidential candidates and swung them on a banner across Asylum Street, corner of Sylvan Avenue, back home.

A Republican neighbor climbed the tree, ripped down the banner and burned it up. There was no talk of apologies or truces. A few rocks, bricks and bloody noses were expected and taken in stride. To this day we have never asked the neighbors to apologize and promise to adopt a program of refinement.

We had a great grandfather who never thought anything was going on politically until he had had his teeth kicked out by a couple of Republicans and had licked 'em both, using a clawhammer, spiked shoes and an old bird gun.

Back through the years the Democrats have been solid-socking, free-swinging folks who flung their haymaker at the enemy and asked or gave no quarter. They looked for no different treatment from a Republican and would have been suspicious if they had received it.

One side could heave a cobblestone at the other anywhere, anytime and get it back with an Indian war cry of "Try this one on your noggin for size, ya bum." Neither asked for "Hearts and Flowers," and it strikes us that the Democrats have been traditionally opposed to the slightest hint that they couldn't take it.

We think the rank and file of Democrats are red with humiliation that a few leaders have complained of unnecessary roughness, cited the spirit of brotherly love instead of the spirit of '76 and even appealed to a Republican President to modify the fight rules, shorten the rounds, stop the encounter if anybody bleeds and require a compulsory rest period after three knockdowns.

What's the country coming to? "You big, contemptible. . . no good blankety blanks". . . has long been customary between one political party and another. Must we now substitute "Shall we dance?"

George S. Kaufman, who has made fortunes getting people to laugh, is personally American's top laugh-hoarder. . . He grins only by court order.

Italy acts as if she would fight to the death anybody trying to get her back on her feet.

Area Secretaries Meet At Galion To Organize

GALION — A delegation from the Hill City Chapter, National Secretaries Association, Mansfield met Monday night with secretaries from Galion, Crestline and Mt. Gilead in preparation for organization of a chapter in Galion. The meeting was held at Hotel Talbott.

Objectives and purposes of the NSA were outlined. An educational program is constantly emphasized. It was pointed out that many chapters award secretarial scholarships, give professional service to welfare agencies and in general make themselves useful in their community. Prime objective of the association is to upgrade the secretarial profession and bring better qualified secretaries to management.

An invitation was extended to all interested secretaries to attend the regular meeting in Mansfield March 16. Reservations for the trip may be made through Mrs Charles Wormell, either at The Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing Co. or at her home by telephone.

$50,000 Damage Suit Filed in Court By County Woman

For injuries she claims she sustained in a taxi-automobile accident south of Marion on May 13, 1953, Billie Furne of near Marion has filed a $50,000 damage suit in Common Pleas Court.

As defendants she named Melvin Duane Foos, 19, of near Richwood, and Harold McCurdy of 433 Brightwood Dr. and Richard E. Bunford of near Marion, doing business as Safety Cab Co.

In her petition the plaintiff says that she was a passenger in a cab driven by Colby Lewis Hill which was transporting her from Marion to her home and place of business eight-tenths of a mile south of Marion on Route 4, and south of County Road 107.

When the cab attempted to make a left turn into her driveway, an automobile driven by Foos also southbound, struck the cab, her petition alleges. As a result of the collision, she was thrown against the front seat of the cab and sustained injuries to her back, the petition claims.

Representing the plaintiff is the law firm of Fetter and Baker.

Actress Asks Husband Be Barred From Home

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lisa Wilson, actress and model, has sued for separate maintenance and asked Superior Court to bar her fifth husband, Jerome B. Thomas, from their home.

Miss Wilson, 30, whose suit was filed yesterday, charged she had suffered physical violence at the hands of Thomas, 33, movie writer and producer. She asked for $554 monthly pending trial of her suit.

They were married here in October 1952.

Dentists in Area Meet

At a dinner meeting of the Marion Dental Study Club Monday night at Hotel Harding in Marion, members were present from Bucyrus, Marion, Mt. Gilead, and Upper Sandusky. Dr. A. J. Wagner was moderator for consideration and later discussion of the school dental health program of the area.

County BIE Day Planned

The Manufacturers Council of the Chamber of Commerce completed plans for the annual Marion County Business-Industry-Education day yesterday at its biweekly luncheon in Hotel Harding. Senior commercial students in Marion County schools will tour business offices and factories here Feb. 25. About 136 students along with 11 teachers from the county schools will take the tour. A noon luncheon will be held in Hotel Harding. The day will be similar to last November's BIE day for city seniors.

Danish Blue Cheese Sauce on Crackers

With a TV set in most living rooms, recreation rooms in basements and other at home entertainment available, housewives appreciate ways to prepare a variety of snacks for guests.

Here is a recipe for Danish blue cheese spread that is smooth and tangy and just right to serve with a hot cup of coffee.

Use: one-half cup Danish blue, crumbled; one-quarter pound butter, unsalted; 1 teaspoon capers, drained; 1 teaspoon parsley, finely minced; 1 fillet of anchovy, finely minced.

Press cheese through coarse sieve, cream butter, beat together, add other ingredients. Pack in small jars, cover, chill, store until ready to serve. Will keep indefinitely.

Delicious with chilled tomato juice or vegetable juice cocktail.

Bipartisan

By George Sokolsky

Our system of government differs from that of most European countries in that it is based on a strictly two-party system — one in power, one in opposition.

SOKOLSKY

In such a country as France, there are numerous small parties. When it is necessary to "form a government," a phrase not usable in this country where the president is elected, the prospective premier negotiates among the various parties, allocating seats in his cabinet, and when he is assured of enough votes in the National Assembly to produce a majority, he takes office. In the Communist countries, only one party exists and the government represents that party.

Efforts to produce a bipartisan government in the United States have failed in time of war as well as peace.

THE CLOSEST to it was the bipartisan coalition during the Truman administration led by Sen. Robert A. Taft and Sen. Harry F. Byrd. This, however, never produced a union of parties; actually it represented a split in each party.

Prior to Gen. Eisenhower's nomination, there was something of an idea that he might be nominated by both parties. Nothing came of that because it is unnatural in our political system.

Instead, the Democratic party came under the control of the ADA group. The quarrels in the Democratic Convention and during the election campaign disappeared in the present session of Congress.

The Democrats are not split between a pro-Eisenhower and anti-Eisenhower clique. The Democratic party is united in its intent upon winning the 1954 congressional election.

The Republicans are split between those supporters of the President who feel, as he apparently does, that there is still a prospect of a bipartisan coalition in support of the President's legislative program and those who believe that if they hit hard, they may win enough seats in the 1954 campaign to have a working majority in the Congress.

THE LINCOLN Birthday week developed into a campaigning operation among Republicans to win elections. The celebrations are now scattered over a week or so and the Republican National Committee provides distinguished speakers. This year, for instance, the largest number of requests were for the presence of Sen. McCarthy.

At these meetings, held in every part of the country, the audience has no desire to listen to stuffed-shirt speeches. They want inspirational speeches to stir their souls and to give them the opportunity to cheer and shout.

It is a wonderful occasion for Republican party members, just as the Jackson Day dinners do the same for the Democrats. The speakers of both parties attack the other party.

Why Sam Rayburn and Stuart Symington should suddenly become sensitive about this kind of speech-making is a little surprising, because they have done plenty of it themselves in the course of their careers.

The issue raised is that some Republicans called all Democrats traitors, which, of course, never happened. It must be assumed that what really got under their skins is that Sherman Adams, the President's chief-of-staff, used the phrase, "Fear Deal."

POLITICALLY, it is a devastating phrase. It could win an election. Nobody has done better with words since Franklin D. Roosevelt died and Sam Rosenman and Robert Sherwood ceased to coin telling, fighting, annihilating phrases.

It is impossible to believe, however, that Sherman Adams did not consult his associates about this phrase, "Fear Deal."

Speeches such as he delivered are generally gone over by the White House entourage, particularly the speech-writers. It is too good a phrase for Adams to have kept to himself.

Furthermore, nobody has been fired for coining the phrase, "Fear Deal," and Adams is still in the White House after he gave it to the pubic.

The Democrats did not apologize for their phrase, "Princes of Plenty," or for their defamation of the character of President Hoover.

IT SEEMS to me that our statesmen do not laugh enough. Stuart Symington, who will probably run for president against President Eisenhower, is a gay person, delightful to the eye and ear. It would be just too bad if the people ever came to believe that as Symington advances in influence and power, he grows stuffy.

Even if the times are tough, this country would be better off if we were more gay and if serious-minded men took themselves less seriously. If the Democrats are not careful, they will get Harry Truman again because, at any rate, he can laugh.

Honest Duty

By Victor Riesel

If the full story is ever told of the piledriving pressure on Rep. George Bender's congressional racket - busting committee to ease up its new probe of labor rackets in New York, New Jersey, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Missouri and Minnesota, it will blow sky high several expensively nurtured national reputations.

RIESEL

Being a sentimental fellow, I want to say that it is heart-warming to learn that in this era when so many slick-phrase artists try to make the entire Congress out to be a collection of knaves and shallow idiots, the members of the House anti-crime committee have rebuffed all pressure. They have rejected all subtle bribes and all offers of campaign contributions. They have not been swayed by threats of political reprisals.

The congressmen have, instead, hired a chief counsel who travels with a packaged anti-crime troupe. They have told him to unearth everything that violates civil liberties or shows the terrorization of rank-and-file union members or the brutalizing of small businessmen or the looting of union welfare funds.

THE NEW COUNSEL is that old nemesis of the mobs—Downey Rice, formerly with the Kefauver and Tobey committees. More recently he and his staff worked with anti-crime elements in Florida.

Rice has already hit the road with his terrific quiz program—and is somewhere in the Midwest now asking questions which will embarrass some national labor figures when the first hearings are opened to the public some time next month or early in April.

Bender and the other members of the sub-committee of the house Government Operations Committee have told Rice as well as the rest of their staff to dig and let the dirt fly.

They don't want to hear from him until he comes up with the evidence for public hearings so they can honestly tell all pressure-artists that even they don't know all of the details and therefore can't — and won't — interfere.

Meanwhile, the FBI is running a name check on every committee employe, just to make certain that all are clean and won't leak any of the findings or "borrow" money from those about to be probed.

THAT SOUNDS like a mighty solid setup — and it is lamentable that the national labor federation did not clean house themselves. The AFL Executive Council, for example, has just finished its high command session in Miami Beach.

The council met at a moment when at least 50 labor officials were awaiting trial on racket charges. Several have just started jail terms, including one in Pittsburgh who was retained in office by his union despite serious violation of the federal laws.

In addition to the congressional probe, there are at least 10 regional grand jury investigations. When the union welfare funds scandal breaks in the New York-New Jersey area it will be revealed that scores of millions of dollars were simply stolen from the members.

Yet no AFL investigating committee was established at its Florida session. In fact, the few racketeers who were exposed by an old three-man AFL committee set up by the council in Boston last year were permitted back in the federation.

What sense is there, then, in fighting the waterfront mobs and leaving the rest of the crime syndicate untouched? The New York waterfront mobs are linked directly through some teamsters locals to the Midwest crowd about to be probed by the Bender committee in Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago and Minneapolis.

ALL MOB infiltration in labor is dominated by a single network. The labor people know it. And they know its personnel.

The other day, for example some very fine young members of the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers said publicly that they wanted an intensified drive against "in-plant gambling" for the sake of their members and "to preserve our very society from the grasp of criminals."

"In-plant gambling is only one facet of the international crime syndicates' operations," the union asserted.

"They deal in narcotics which are more and more enslaving our youth. They deal in prostitution. They corrupt the moral fiber of our very government through the bribery of our public officials."

Fine statement. This New Jersey union is clean, to my personal knowledge. Why, then, doesn't it name the corrupt union officials it well knows are operating only a few streets away in the heart of this crime network? — New Jersey having the worst concentration of all. What stills the tongue of honest labor leaders?

Since there is corruption, it is now the moral duty of honest labor to work with the Bender committee — not try to cripple it!

Judy Not Dull

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Many a smart girl has learned the smartest thing she can do is act dumb.

But Judy Holliday, who has made a fortune playing dumb blonde roles, had to take a holiday from real genius to do it.

HAL BOYLE

(At ten Judy had an I.Q. of 172, or roughly double the intelligence level of the average Hollywood executive, if what you hear about Hollywood is true.)

—:—

BUT IT RATHER disturbed Judy to have an intellectural batting average comparable to that of Babe Ruth in baseball. She never had a desire to grow up and become the handicap of being a child genius.

"I've had to live it down, and I think I have," she said wryly the other day at Sardi's. "They say you change every seven years. Whatever my I. Q. was when I was a child, it certainly has been going downhill since.

"But it imposed a terrible obligation on me for a long time. It embarrassed me. People expected me to be devastatingly witty—to talk like a knife blade."

At the ripe old age of 31 (it says right here in black print) Judy finds it more comfortable that people now expect her to be as dumb in real life as she acts on stage and screen. It is so restful.

MEANWHILE JUDY currently starred in Columbia's "It Should Happen to You," has been wise enough to insist on making only one film a year so the public won't tire of her—and her own work won't become stale to her. And she hasn't let Hollywood fame or money upset her own private values. She doesn't go in for off-screen glamor.

"My life hasn't changed much," she said. "I don't go to the places where the elite meet.

"Motherhood isn't as popular in Hollywood now as it was several years ago. You're supposed to keep quiet about that. An actress now is supposed to be exciting and romantic and glamorous."

BUT JUDY DOESN'T mind telling the world the biggest thing in her life is her 15-month-old son, Jonathan.

"I used to collect antique furniture," she said. "Now all I collect is baby pictures. Does he have an I. Q. of 172? How could I tell? All I know is I like him like he is.

"Am I afraid of anything, did you ask? Well, I'm not afraid of losing success. I would be more afraid of losing the people in my life than the things in my life. But right now I love life as it is. I want it to stay that way."

Judy is a friendly, down-to-earth, easy-talking girl. But she still gets as neverous over each new role as she did when she made her first hit in "Born Yesterday," a part which her tremendous memory enabled her to learn in only three days. Acting dumb is hard, serious work for an intelligent woman.

"Comedy is like surf riding," she explained. "You have to hit the waves at just the right time to keep an audience laughing.

"And when there are no waves—oh, you drown . . . and how you drown!"

HER CAREER HAS cost Judy one of the big pleasures of living—eating her own cooking. Her fighting weight is 130—and she has to fight hard to keep it there.

"I'm a very good cook, and I love to cook, but it's a trap, a pitfall for me," she said, "because as I cook, I love to taste. And by the time, I serve it, particularly if it is something really good, I find it has diminished considerably in the kitchen.

"I guess what I am most afraid of right now are calories. . .any calorie. . .all calories."

Reader's Digest Reports:

ONLY NEW COLGATE DENTAL CREAM with Miracle Anti-Enzyme Ingredient GARDOL*

HAS THE CLINICAL PROOF!

(Proof that Brings New Hope to Millions for LIFETIME PROTECTION AGAINST TOOTH DECAY)

5 QUICK FACTS FROM THE READER'S DIGEST ARTICLE

"What About Anti-Enzyme Toothpastes?" December, 1953

1. Reader's Digest says—The most effective anti-enzyme toothpaste ingredient tested was developed in the Colgate-Palmolive Company laboratories.
(It's Colgate's miracle ingredient Gardol (Sodium N-Lauroyl Sarcosinate)—found in no other leading toothpaste!

2. Reader's Digest says—One of the foremost dental authorities in the world proved that this ingredient binds itself effectively to the teeth—holds acid formation below the decay level in 95 per cent of cases tested.
(Unlike ordinary toothpaste ingredients, effective only for minutes, this protection won't rinse off—won't wear off—all day or all night!

3. Reader's Digest says—Even 12 hours after brushing, this new Colgate anti-enzyme discovery continues to guard against the enzymes that cause tooth decay.
(Thus, just daily morning and night brushings guard against decay-causing enzymes every minute of the day and night!

4. Reader's Digest says—In clinical tests, supervised by leading dental authorities—for a full year—people who used ordinary toothpastes averaged almost two and a half times more new cavities than those who used New Colgate Dental Cream with Gardol (Sodium N-Lauroyl Sarcosinate). In fact, of the group using New Colgate's, 4 out of 5 developed no new cavities at all!
(A group of distinguished dentists examined this evidence and agreed—New Colgate Dental Cream with Gardol gives the surest protection against tooth decay ever offered by any toothpaste!

5. Reader's Digest says—New Colgate Dental Cream is the only toothpaste with clinical proof of its effectiveness in actually reducing the formation of new cavities.

NOW! NEW COLGATE DENTAL CREAM CONTAINS GARDOL (*SODIUM N-LAUROYL SARCOSINATE)
